Beauty of Christmas Present

Polite, lovable and personable was Pat Haldeman of Arlington High School the title of December gift of the month for the National Parents League. Dark-skinned Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Haldeman of 1331 N. Channing. She has been a member of the French and the Trips "9" club of the school and in her class column. This year she is working at the S. & W. Groves Shopping Center at Wheeling, Pa., a senior at school, fluent in French and typing and plans to attend a secretarial course in college. Her biggest dream, she says, is to travel to Hawaii.

Christmas Rush is On

Left: Little Harry Eckert, 2, checks his package to mail at the Arlington Heights Post Office as his father, Harry Sr., of 210 W. Veterans Ln., Arlington Heights, waits in line for his turn at the service counter. The post office is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. until Dec. 23 to accommodate the Christmas rush. Barrie Ziemer, mgr. of mail, said that the Christmas season is the busiest time of mail in the country here during the Christmas season.

Proposal for New Park Dist. Divides Meadows Home Owners

BY TED LACEY

The creation of a new park district in Rolling Meadows is causing a legal skirmish between two home owners associations.

The Plum Grove Countrywide Home Owners Assn. filed a petition with Circuit Court No. 23 for a separate park district to be formed, the boundaries of which include Plum Grove Village, a development of condominium homes for sale.

The Plum Grove Village Home Owners Assn., not wanting to be included in a park district, contending they would not receive any tangible benefits from the taxes they would have to pay, filed their own petition on the same day. They want their housing development to become a protective district so as not to be included in any park district.

was filed. The date for the review of Courtney's petition is set for Jan. 3, at 10 a.m. At that time the village assn. will petition for a hearing and file objections to the proposed park. Any Richard Houghton told The Day.

The people of Plum Grove Countrywide (largely a single-family residential area) have wanted to be annexed into the Rolling Meadows Park Dist. for almost five years, according to Home Owners Assn. President Ernest Martin, "but we would have to be contiguous to do so, and we're not."

"We live within the city but not within the district. The nearest park facility is four or five blocks away, and our kids have to be taken there by car. We don't want them to have to cross Rt. 53 by themselves."

"OUR ONLY alternative," Martin said, "is to develop our own park district, and get land through condemnation in the village, and we would do it in as soon as possible, as we have no other alternative."

"So, on the basis that there are no possible benefits, the residents can possibly receive, they filed their petition requesting the court not include them in the proposed park district."

"They feel that the people of Courtney's want to include the village only to take advantage of the assessed value for tax purposes. But the village feel they pay enough taxes already."

MARTIN explained why the village was included within the boundaries of the proposed district.

"When we looked at the natural boundaries of the village, it seemed logical to include Plum Grove Village."

The boundaries as we have drawn them are Plum Grove Rd. to the west, the Lake Rd. to the east, Kirkhoff Rd. to the south and the proposed Winnetka Ave. on the north.

"We realize that the village is an adult development, with no children. But on the other hand we feel they will eventually be annexed into some park district anyway, probably Rolling Meadows."

"Besides, when we first moved here it was our understanding that the village area would be developed with single family residences, and we would be able to redraw our boundaries."

Martin said, number of the board of the Plum Grove Village Assn., when asked whether he was optimistic that the Courtney's petition could be defeated replied "I haven't any idea."

"According to Atty. Gen. under Illinois statute any 100 people can begin the establishment of a park district by describing an area with "reasonable" boundaries and under 50,000 residents, providing it is a compact and contiguous area, no part of which is included in another park district."

A petition is submitted to the Circuit court requesting this area become a park district, and if the court decides that all these requirements have been met it can be reformed.

One good outcome of all the commotion, according to Martin, is that a lot of residents finally registered to vote - which they had to do before they could file a petition.

"A lot of people registering in Plum Grove Village didn't even know they were in Rolling Meadows," Martin said, "so now at least they know what city they live in."

"THE RESIDENTS of Plum Grove Village tend to

Dist. 59 to Consider 2 School Additions

Architectural discussions of additions to Dist. 59, Brentwood and Salt Creek Schools, are on the agenda when the school board meets tonight at 8 in the administration building, 2123 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights.

So in setting a date for the sale of bonds to provide funds for school construction.

Safety coordinator Charles Barr, who serves as Dempster and Holmes Junior High Schools, will be introduced to board members, and will describe his work.

Also scheduled is the resignation of Dempster language arts teacher Mrs. Christine Benney to work with the 1st and 2nd year programs. Schools in Dist. 59 are Jay, Front, Forest, View, Elmcrest, Holmes, and Dempster, in Mount Prospect; Juliette Low in Arlington Heights; Brentwood, Devonshire, Hill Ridge, Kaulin and Einstein in Des Plaines, and eight other El Grove Village buildings.

Board chairman John Haas said the resignation was a surprise. His replacement, to be appointed by the board will serve until April, when an election will be held for five board seats.

Q: On leaving the area to accept employment with a publishing company in New York. He is an English teacher at Mundelein College, and has served on the board since May 1965.

Little Damage

Arlington Heights firemen extinguished a fire in the family room at the home of Mrs. Mary C. Gering, 615 S. Belmont, Sunday afternoon. The fire caused a rug to be damaged.

Installation of traffic signals at the intersection of Palatine and Kennelton Rds. in Arlington Heights is completed, according to state officials, and the lights are in full operation.

The signals were installed in an effort to cut down on the high rate of accidents at the corner.

For Your Holiday

Here is the first of six original holiday songs written by your Arlington Heights Mount Prospect area neighbors. Each day this week the words and music of five new Christmas songs will appear in The Day.

On Tuesday, Dec. 26, the first day of Chanukah, the Jewish Festival of Lights, The Day will carry an original Chanukah song.

The Author:

Artist, writer, lecturer, and women's editor of The Prospect Day, Debrae Haugh is author of "Have You Been to Bethlehem?" first in a series of original holiday music by local residents.

Dolores is a graduate of Wright Junior College, and studied at Northwestern University and the Art Institute of Chicago.

Her plays, poems, and stories have been published nationally in the Lutheran Church of America. She first met her husband, Jan Bone, in the Lutheran Church in Mount Prospect, and then for Grace Lutheran Church of Prospect Heights.

A charter member of the Mount Prospect Art League and the Prospect Historical Society, Dolores is the mother of two teenage daughters.

Fair Housing On Agenda For Tonight

A fair housing ordinance is scheduled to be considered tonight by the Arlington Heights board of trustees.

Trustees recently replaced an ordinance proposed by the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee for consideration with one passed by the city of Evanston.

The ordinance under discussion places restrictions on landlords but does not affect homeowners.

Girl Unaffected

A pair of handcuffs with a key were taken from a 15-year-old girl when she was in the collar, a teenage night watchman said.

Arlington Heights Police Officer Eugene Kain said he saw the girl with the handcuffs Friday night inside the collar. He said the girl told him she got them from her father.

Finds Recorder

A portable tape recorder was found in the parking lot of St. James School.

Dennis Lamm of 815 N. Arlington Heights Rd. told police he found the recorder last night in the police station.

Shopping Around

These Ideas May Help You Please

BY BETTY ANSLINE

Does your Christmas list have the names of a maiden aunt or an uncle on it with question marks after them?

Men are always harder to buy gifts for, and running a close second is the bachelor girl who seems to have just about everything.

That older aunt or uncle with a hobby makes your problem simpler. There is always something new a hobbyist would enjoy and the gift is sure to please if it touches on a special interest.

A coin collector or stamp collector might like a special magnifying glass or a late book on his hobby. Both can be found in the hobby section of Carson's at Randolph, or the Marshall Field store at Old Orchard, or, if you don't care to wander that far try the Hobby Lobby, 210 E. Northmore Hwy. in Arlington Heights.

I'VE FOUND three or four paperbacks, new or used, have been a favorite gift to send a hard-to-buy-for aunt or uncle. New books are always appearing in paper covers and you can wrap a variety. They

Plan Two Holiday Coffees

The Northeast Suburban Alumnae of Chi Omega will hold two simultaneous Christmas Coffees at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 19. Chi Omega from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Puzer of Arlington Heights. Alumnae from Park Ridge and Des Plaines are invited to attend at the home of Mrs. Robert Mahls of Des Plaines.

To Host Party

The Rolling Meadows Junior Women's Club will present their annual Christmas party for the children at Clearbrook Center for the Blind at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 19. Santa Claus will present gifts and candy canes donated by Rolling Meadows merchants.

are lighter to mail and you might endorse a crossword puzzle book too. All can be found at Arlington Heights, 5 West Campbell or Arlington Book Shop 412 S. Arlington Heights Rd. Because these books are relatively inexpensive you can include a number so at least one or two will be certain to please and just about everyone enjoys picking up a book to read. Include a good, fairly late novel, a biography, a humorous collection and maybe one of your own favorite authors.

"I'M UP to my armpits in catalogs and after three stuff," declared my uncle. "Shirts, socks, ties, I don't need" — and there you are — still wondering what to buy. "Don't buy me a thing," they say nobly. But if you don't care to wonder that far try the Hobby Lobby, 210 E. Northmore Hwy. in Arlington Heights.

Maybe he doesn't smoke and she is watching his new television, but they both might appreciate a gift of choice appetizer or fruit. It is relatively simple to concoct your own selections from a wide variety offered at Dominick's First Foods, 3131 Kinross Rd., Rolling Meadows.

A fancy Christmas box can be purchased at Ben Franklin in Elk Grove shopping center or straw baskets in different sizes.

UNLESS your gift may be sent out of town it is easy to pick an attractive, low calorie meal of nibbles. Fruits can be wrapped in colored tissue paper and stacked in the container with sprigs of holly to heighten Christmas interest.

An aunt or a special female friend who has Christmas lists couldn't help but like one of the new musical jewelry boxes now at Klein's gift shop at Algonquin and Arlington Heights Rds. These match the lovely purses, billfolds, cosmetics cases with the happy padding, silk copies of famous paintings on the fish. These attractive boxes are jeweled in themselves with gold-colored enamel and the prints which are copies of famous paintings. There are several Deane ballet prints, an intriguing copy of the Mona Lisa and Corot's "Artist's Studio." Prices are $10.95 and $11.95 and the boxes are perfect for giving as special jewelry treasures.

DID YOU know Walt Boyce in Prospect is a very busy and successful collector of famous paintings. You might make that Christmas check a bit more interesting if you induce one of their catalogs.

Here anything from annual game, jokes or new hobby ideas are listed and your check recipient will have fun shopping the many pages. But maybe you'd like to go to the store yourself and look through the huge number of books with jokes and hard to find games as well as tables of toys. One I noticed in particular looked like fun called "Games People Play" which is based on the best seller book by the same name. It is an adult psychology game of human relationships and costs you $10.95.

YOU MIGHT remember to try a magazine subscription or a new gadget for her or her desk. The perfect desk or day organizer in check of the year's gift spring the flower gram or in the more masculine wood grain. All can be found at Weibold's store in Randolph.

These suggestions may spark your own imagination for just the right gift for the difficult hunt is on your list. One thing is certain, with a little thought and a little extra special looking you'll find that special gift you seek — no happy shopping.

A WRITING PORTFOLIO or clutch purse would appeal to the teen on your Christmas list. The portfolio is covered with walnut or birch grain (gray) and holds a writing tablet and envelopes. The purse is gold-colored and comes in vinyl in assorted colors. Each sells for $1.99 at Woodward's.

Ridge PTA to Hold Program

Ridge School PTA will hold its annual Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the multipurpose room of the school. Fifth graders, under the direction of music teacher, Miss Barbara Thomas, will present a selection of Christmas Carols.

The Teen Theatre, 22 Arlington students under the direction of Miss Judy Speer, will present "Dickens," a Christmas Carol. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Busy Brownies

"Operation Sweet Tooth" was one of the activities of Brownie Troop 492 at Robert Frost School. The girls collected and mailed 150 copies of candy and letters to the USS Lacy. They now have their own "O'Leary" project, having adopted the ship and crew.

Brownie Troop 369 recently paid a visit to the Old Peoples' Home in Arlington Heights, taking tiny favors with special cards to please those who are diabetic.

Brownie Troop 831 at Robert Frost School had their investiture recently and 13 new girls were inducted. Both Carol Neufeld, leader, and her co-leader Kitty Joyce received their membership stars along with 6 troop members.

Junior Troop 323 from Ridge School celebrated their year of Indian lore by visiting the Field Museum. They plan to go gardening at St. Anselm Hospital the evening of Dec. 19 and the afternoon of Dec. 23.

Still Time To Make These Gifts

There is still time to make a few gifts. Here are some suggestions for inexpensive presents you or your children will enjoy making.

An attractive pair of bookends to make for a student's room by padding and covering two ordinary mouse bricks. Use material matching or contrasting with the desktop and bookshelf. Slip-stitch the material in place.

An old kitchen cabinet set can be a most valuable addition to a boy's room. Place the cans or jars on his desk or dresser to hold markers, knives, rocks and all those things boys hang on to and keep in their pockets. Paint the cans so they fit in with the room's decor.

An inexpensive gift for a toddler learning how to button his clothes can be made from scraps of felt and odd buttons. Using the same idea as that used to make a paper doll, cut the body, legs, head and tail of an animal from felt. Sew buttons to the body where the paces should attach. Make a buttonhole so the pen can be attached.

If you can't think of a thing to give someone on your list enroll her in your own Gift of the Month Club. Send her a clever card which says she will receive a small gift each month. Bake cookies, send a glass or two of homemade jam or jelly or a loaf of homemade bread. You'll find your friend will be delighted and look forward to these little monthly surprises.

notebook. Cover the book with patterned, plastic-coated, adhesive-backed paper. Boys who are handy with simple tools may enjoy making a straw, Buy or cut out a piece of plywood or a piece of rectangular shape, sand, Shallow or sharp, and then glue rope around the edges. A design can be painted in the center or the entire tray can be painted a gay color.

IF DAD is a fisherman he will appreciate a bait can. Remove both ends from a coffee can. Spray paint on the can. Put a plastic lid on each end. He will never have to dig down for worms as the can may be turned upside down and the lid removed from that end.

Dad will appreciate a meter minder, too. Use a plastic pill container with a snap-on lid. Punch or drill two small holes in the lid and insert a key chain through the holes in the top. Fill the container with nickels and pennies. Dad will find a handy place for it in the car.

If you can't think of a thing to give someone on your list enroll her in your own Gift of the Month Club. Send her a clever card which says she will receive a small gift each month. Language Clarification Requested

Housing Law Goes to Legal Committee

Attorney William Moore testifying before the board of trustees as a representative of the Realtors. He said there was no need for a fair housing ordinance and claimed it would discriminate against real estate brokers.

By Charles Mouradian

Village trustees last night sent the proposed fair housing ordinance to the legal committee by a 4 to 3 vote after opponents and supporters of the ordinance clashed verbally over its need here.

With President John G. Woods and four trustees evenly split for the ordinance, it appeared for a while that it would be passed immediately.

BUT TRUSTEES Roy Reeder and Charles Bernini said that they did not fully understand the language of the ordinance.

Reeder moved to refer the ordinance to the board's legal committee. He said he did not know enough about the ordinance and would like to have some of the legal language clarified.

The two trustees were supported by John White and George Burgin, who had previously indicated that they would vote "yes" to the ordinance if a vote was called right away. Woods, and trustees Jack Walsh and Frank Palminteri opposed referring the ordinance to the legal committee. They apparently want its immediate passage.

LWV Backs Housing Ordinance

The local League of Women Voters last night supported the passage of an open housing ordinance and urged the creation of a human relations commission.

Mrs. William Trevor, president of the league, told the village trustees her group urges that a "fair housing ordinance include a complaint review board constituted as a human relations or community relations commission."

The trustees would utilize that commission in the same manner the plan commission does, that is, an advisory body.

She said LWV believes that the responsibility of securing equal housing opportunity rests on the local, state and federal governments as well as individuals and institutions.

question at hand in order to officially establish our understanding of, and sympathy with, the broader national question."

REPRESENTATIVES of the human relations committee said a fair housing ordinance is needed because there have been instances of discrimination against Negroes by Realtors and claimed that there were some weaknesses in the proposed ordinance.

"While we would like to have certain features included in the ordinance, the passage of the ordinance represents a firm statement of principle and a step toward the goal of the proposed ordinance has been taken."

The proposed ordinance, as approved by Sigel, also accepted for Evansdale, does not directly affect the homeowners.

If an individual wants to sell his house only to whites, according to Sigel, he could not do so without stating his preference. In a case such as that, the proposed ordinance would be obligated to show him the house.

THE BUYER would then be able to decide whether or not he wanted to buy the house.

But he can't do it alone. He needs help — you help.

Village Attorney Jack Sigel, who prepared the proposed fair housing ordinance.

make up his mind whether he wanted to attempt to buy that particular house.

The human relations committee had proposed an ordinance which the board of trustees thought read directly on the individual homeowners and said it would be considered unconstitutional.

According to Sigel, last night's ordinance is the same as the one passed in Chicago which has been tested before the Illinois Supreme Court and declared constitutional.

A statement read by the human relations committee said the group would like to include in the ordinance apartment complex developers and to prohibit Realtors to handle any transaction that contains a discriminatory qualification.

THE PROPOSED ordinance would require real estate brokers to receive a license from the village and be subject to a review board.

Although that board would investigate every complaint of alleged discrimination and make recommendations, the village trustees would have the final word on any punishment of Realtors.

Punishment could include both a fine and suspension of license.

For the first time in a meeting of the trustees last night, Reeder opposed the ordinance claiming that it was both unnecessary and discriminatory against them.

ATTONES AT PETERS and William Moore

SEVERAL residents testified against any fair housing ordinance saying it would create a privileged class of people by law.

The president of the Regent Park Homeowners Association, who said the ordinance would create a marketing problem for the residents.

"The ordinance denies the services of a Realtor to a homeowner wishing to discriminate," he said.

William Griffith, a W. Euclid, said he could see neither existing nor possible anticipated need for such an ordinance.

He claimed that so far there have been no specific instances of discrimination.

IN THE STANDING committee, there was some space for humor.

Woods threatened to call the police early on a lady who insisted on shouting from the floor without recognition from him.

The woman, who identified herself as "Mrs. Clemens," said she and her husband were "organized to help."

When Moore discovered that the woman was not a member of the organization, he said "What a rascal you turned out to be."

Mrs. Clemens gave her address as 202 McArthur Dr., Evanston, Ill. She said she was a Prospect, although the telephone directory lists that address as a U.S. House.

The Forgotten Children

Christmas Never Comes Unless Someone Helps

By MEL MILES

On Christmas morning, children the world over will scamper to Christmas trees to see what Santa Claus has brought them.

Some children, though, won't find anything under the tree. In fact, many of them won't even have a Christmas tree.

"They are the forgotten children — war's the state in Cook County. For them, Christmas will be just another day of sadness and disappointment."

Deadline Thursday

The deadline for donations to the gift fund of the Illinois Family and Children Services is Thursday night, according to Fran Park, foster home finding supervisor.

If cash donations are received by Thursday night, according to Miss Parks, gifts can be purchased by caseworkers and delivered to needy children on Christmas.

Late last night, Jack Keifer of Keifer's Pharmacy in Mount Prospect, donated gifts and gift wrapping to be used in the drive.

MOUNT PROSPECT Mayor Daniel Congrove personally pledged $50 towards the drive. Other civic leaders are expected to make contributions tonight.

Day residents can aid the James Anderson family's attempt to brighten Christmas for "forgotten children" by sending checks payable to the Children and Family Services Children's Gift Fund to the offices at 217 S. Arlington Heights Rd. in Arlington Heights or 117 S. Main in Mount Prospect. The checks will be delivered by a member of The Day staff to Miss Park last Thursday night.

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

day of sadness and disappointment. A little girl, neglected by her parents, and shifted around from one foster home to another, cannot cry. She pretends that she does not care about anything.

All need love. They need attention. They need to feel that someone cares.

A Christmas without presents! That's what James Anderson of Arlington Heights is trying to avoid. He's taken in four of 38 children who are war's the state in Cook County.

Many of these children are from foster homes and will receive presents from their foster parents. But, according to Anderson, more than 100 children face a bleak Christmas, a Christmas that is like any other day of the year.

Anderson, of 217 N. Evergreen, is a member of the Businessmen's Task Force, an organization formed to aid needy children in the wake of the state. In effect, the task force is the public relations arm of the country's welfare agencies.

A SAMPLING of case studies shows that many of the children who are now destined to be forgotten on Christmas are already emotionally scarred. A little girl, neglected by her parents, and shifted around from one foster home to another, cannot cry. She pretends that she does not care about anything.

An 11-year-old girl in the care of foster parents who also have two other foster children. They are present financially and will not, he has no contact with his mother. She lives in fear of an impending exorcism.

A five-year-old boy was abused by his mother when he was three years old. She deserted him when he was three and has not been heard from since. Nightmares leave him in terror. He knows Christmas is coming, but he is sure there will be no presents for him.

Anderson, father of eight children, has volunteered to see that six of the children in these children's homes have Christmas.

"When my children read the case reports they decided to take live of them as their personal projects," Anderson said.

THE WHEELING Township Republican

Organization took off by the children and guaranteed that they will have a present on Christmas.

Still there are many children who won't have a Merry Christmas. But Anderson says that something can be done. He is appealing to readers of The Day to do what they can to help make Christmas a time to remember for these pathetic children.

The project is not officially sponsored by the Businessmen's Task Force. It is a project that Anderson has undertaken on his own. He knows that he can't do the entire job by himself. He needs help.

"My wife has been on the phone all day," Anderson said, "trying to get together as many gifts as possible."

THERE ARE more than 100 children who, as of now, won't receive any presents. Jim Anderson thinks that Christmas should be special for these children.

He's doing all he can in the meantime days to help. Dec. 23 won't be a day of disappointment for the country's unwanted and unloved children.

But he can't do it alone. He needs help — you help.

Meadows to Open City Hall Bids

The Rolling Meadows City Council will open bids on the construction of the City Hall addition tonight.

Talks Begin Soon On Teacher Pay

BY RICHARD CRABB

This is the season to be jolly, but it is to be followed quickly by several other seasons, one of which is the season to establish teachers' salaries for the school year that begins next September.

No local taxing body approaches collecting as much tax money as the public grade school and high school.

School districts get two-thirds or more of all the real estate and personal taxes. Approximately 75 per cent of all the funds received by school districts are paid out in teacher salaries, indicating not only how important teachers are to our schools but to taxpayers.

IN THE NEXT 60 days officials of school districts, including those serving Arlington Heights, Maywood, Prospect and Rolling Meadows, will be meeting with their teachers in an effort to reach agreement on salaries to be paid in the 1968-69 school year.

Since millions of dollars are involved in the school districts providing schooling to White, Elk Grove and Palatine Townships, the meetings which teachers are paid, and how much, taken on a great deal of interest in the weeks immediately ahead.

FOR A DECADE or more, teachers in the Chicago area school districts have been paid on a schedule. The schedule figures on the schedule vary but the formula is essentially the same.

The schedule is based on a starting salary for the teacher just graduated from college or university and without previous teaching experience. This starting salary is upgraded by years of experience and additional education at college or university.

The Arlington Heights Public Schools of District 25 began developing this plan soon after Sept. 1, 1958, when the district became head of the district more than 20 years ago, being one of the first to introduce the procedure.

The Dist. 25 schedule is now typical of those used by the other districts in Wheeling, Elk Grove and Palatine Townships.

The present beginning salary in Dist. 25 for a teacher without teaching experience and with the regular bachelor of education degree is $5,700.

THE SCHEDULE provides for annual raises for 15 years, ranging from 2 to 6 per cent. A teacher who remains in the Arlington Heights system for 15 years would have an annual income of $9,120.

A beginning teacher with a master's degree would start at $6,155 and reach the 15-year maximum of $9,500.

A teacher who does a year of graduate work would advance to $10,375, the highest possible salary in Dist. 25.

According to assistant Supt. Robert P. Campbell, the average contracted salary for the 430 teachers in Dist. 25 is $7,196 a year.

Campbell points out that the school board has the authority to withhold the annual pay increase for teachers whose work is unsatisfactory.

HOWEVER, state law prohibits a pay cut.

"Teachers who have taught in other school systems before coming to Dist. 25 are credited with not more than seven years' experience regardless of how long they may have taught over seven years," says Campbell. "This is the same limitation as is exercised in nearly all school districts throughout the country. It tends to prevent highly experienced teachers from working to relocate."

Campbell explains further, "In addition to the regular contracted salary, some 150 teachers out of the total of 430 are receiving special increments."

The most numerous of these is the "head of family" allowance of $400 which is paid to 98 men or women who qualify as head of a household.

Forty-two teachers are paid increments of 5 to 12 per cent of the base salary for carrying additional responsibilities such as assistant principal or head of a department.

The Dist. 25 schedule is now typical of those used by

Help Needed For Skating, Hockey Rinks

The Prospect Heights Park District is seeking persons to help make for ice skating and hockey rinks being built at Elm and McDonald Rds.

According to park commissioner Joe Lennick, the Prospect Heights Lions have given permission to build the rinks of their property.

The area will be lighted for night skating. Lennick said and a "warming house" will be built.

Anyone interested in being guards or maintenance workers are asked to call Lennick at CH-3030 or Dennis Schaefer at CL-3-1548.

Dialogue

...with George Hamilton

"With this holiday season beginning to bear down on everyone's wallet, purse, money belt, bank book, cookie jar and sugar bowl, it's interesting to observe some of the Christmas cards we're getting and the way they're presented."

"You mean, like the riddle cards that take the message out of Christmas?"

"No, the ones that are given out by some as a true expression of the occasion but by others as a subtle means of protection."

"Like the card we received from the local junk man the other day. It read, "Seasons Greetings! From your Junk Man. (No checks please)."

"I never go along with this. You'd hate to have his turn just now as a customer."

"Yes, we'd be bored in just a week. "How about the card we received from the grocery store delivery boy. That one read, "Merry Christmas. Please, no fruit cake this year. I got a discount on them at the store."

"Watch out for him. We didn't give one a present last year and we're still getting stale bread and sugar raisins."

"That's what we worried about. And then there's the two Christmas cards we got in the mail Saturday. One was from the mailman and included his badge number and address. The other was from the parent-join chairman."

"And on Sunday we received a special delivery Christmas card delivered by our special delivery mailman."

"Looks like you'd better send some of your messages by phone if you don't take the time."

"We'll have to, until they invent dial-a-card, anyway. But what would be the odds about our garbage."

"Last week the garbage man left us a nice little Christmas card fastened to the top of the garbage can lid. We ignored it, other than to wave and say "Merry Christmas."

"This week we heard a rather clever outside. We went out and saw the garbage truck going to the dump. Fastened to the top of the device, I noticed a twisted garbage can was another card. The card said, "Merry Christmas (Second Notice)."

"Never mind that stuff—gimme your CREDIT CARDS!"

McDonald Creek Slated For Survey

The state has indicated it will comply with the Old Town Sanitary District's request to measure the pollution in McDonald Creek.

Francis Lorenz, director of the state department of public works and buildings, has ordered the survey on a request by Ray David Regier, R. Mount Prospect.

Regier met with Old Town Sanitary District officials last month and was asked if any state or federal funds might be available in terms of sewage and other contaminants from McDonald Creek.

Sanitary District Trustee Frank Kaman said last Tuesday the district officials plan to make a preliminary review of the installation of the Prospect Heights sanitary sewer with M. Peters and Associates, engineering company of Oak Park.

THE DISTRICT will then take the plans of the sewers in the area to the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Chicago. Kaman said he hopes that the Metropolitan District will allow the Prospect Heights sewer lines to be connected to their lines.

District officials also plan to meet with Ben Leland of the Chicago office of the Housing and Urban Development Assoc. to discuss the possibility of obtaining loans to stop water pollution through federal grants.

Kaman said. She wrote the original manuscript for her special holiday song for a Christmas program at the United Church of the Mater in Mount Prospect. The mother of three, Mrs. Robert, Richard and Steven, the conduct private music lessons for many area children.

"A Children's Cantata" was written by Mrs. Robert Newport of 301 S. Edward, Mount Prospect.

and has made guest appearances for many local civic organizations.

She wrote the original manuscript for her special holiday song for a Christmas program at the United Church of the Mater in Mount Prospect. The mother of three, Mrs. Robert, Richard and Steven, the conduct private music lessons for many area children.

Prospect Heights residents in the Old Town area have an annual valuation of about $10 million, and sanitary district officials want financial help in constructing sanitary facilities estimated at $700,000.

John of Ariz was described as a "man who heard voices that had to be obeyed" by the boy team and the girl team responded that Paul Revere could have saved himself a lot of needless horseback riding if he had gone home and told his wife who would have spread the news on the British happening by word of mouth.

It was not all so humorous. There were many intense points scored on both sides. All of the youngsters were superior in the tradition established by the St. James Junior High School debaters.

Sister Mary Catherine is the teacher who did all of the preliminary work. The moderator was Paul Marsh and the timekeeper was Thomas Loch who kept announcing the time with cards containing the numbers for one, two and three.

Tom had trouble with the one which appeared upon the last time but his timing was perfect. The judges were Father Robert Streifel, Sister Judith, Teacher Stanley Pansalla, Margie Frisker, teacher Joseph Lohndes and this column writer. The results were perfect. The score was a tie.

The audience was filled with a group of children who were so excited that they might have been part of the show rather than witness commercial.

YAMATO AND ROSSAN

Enclosed in the very lively and very original Christmas card from a favorite overseas adventurer, Bob Peters, was a cryptic notice.

"If my friends are interested in what I'm doing, look through the Jan. 6 issue of Saturday Review."

Bob, the son of Al and Li Peters, is a high school teacher in Yamato to American children of service personnel in the history of his father.

Adam Peters, nephew of Bob in far-off Tokyo and grandson of Al and Li, had reached the ripe old age of 15 months and was wearing his very beautiful blonde curls. His dad, Adam, decided that Adam should have his first haircut.

It was not like any other haircut in the history of barbering.

Adam's father, naturally, went with him. His mother couldn't wait to see the new home and so did Grandma Peters. But Grandma Peters went and so did Uncle Paul.

Lion's Fred Schmidt splashed toward first-place finish in 50-yard freestyle. Later, Schmidt set a new team record of 1:00.7 in the 100-yard butterfly as St. Victor outgassed Forest View, 70-25.

Turnovers, Fouls Costly As Griffins Downs Viator

Turnovers and fouls cost St. Victor a win Saturday. The Lions rallied late, but were hurt by repeated fouls and lost to Griffin of Springfield, 43-36.

VIATOR's top man was forward Jim Drew who had 19. Bob McElroy added 10.

"I was really surprised in the game," said the Viator coach. "I expected a lot tougher ball game down there, but we were able to do more against them offensively than we have against any other team this year. We had 14 jump shots. But we had a lot of turnovers and they hit us. Fortunately for us, they were not good."

"We were able to cut their lead to three points a number of times," said St. Victor Coach Ed Woodward. "But every time we'd get it down to three, one of our kids would foul one of theirs. They had the one-and-one and, sure enough, they'd poke them in the eye. If we could have stayed away from the fouls we could have pulled it out."

VIATOR got some fine shooting from guest Dan Griffin. Griffin led both teams with 22 points before he fouled out in the fourth quarter. Being fouled in 19 rebounds, according to Woodward, was noted in any one game by a boy since I've been here."

St. Victor splashed to first place finish in all events except one yesterday as it downed Forest View, 70-25.

Three Viator swimmers won two of the four Forest View events. Fred Schmidt broke a team record in the 50-yard freestyle and set a team record of 1:00.7. His performance earned the old team mark of 1:01.0 which was set two years ago. Schmidt also took first in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 2:45.

RICH LYNCH of the Lions converted a first in the 200-yard event with 2:02.5 and another in the 100-yard freestyle with a 55.1. Alan Katschay finished off the head of the field with a 1:13.7 in the 100-yard breaststroke and a 2:30.2 in the 200-yard individual medley.

The only Falcon to come away with a first place ribbon was Dick Holman, who swam the 400-yard freestyle in 4:39. Forest View's top three were Dave Muller in the diving and Bill O'Leary in the 100-yard backstroke.

Knights, Cat Coaches Agree 'Both Teams Did Great Job'

Prospect basketball coach Jim Kineman and his Wheeling counterpart, Mike Owens, agree there was little to choose between the two teams in the game the Knights won Friday 65-64.

Owens, a Sunday that "both teams did a great job on us," to had to play catch-up and did a great job of coming back. Owens said, "They were way up early in the game and did a fine job of getting that big lead."

OWENS said the game's decisive last two minutes—when Prospect, which had led 51-49—lost, came back to win on a last-second free throw—were even, except for the outcome.

"I made mistakes and they made mistakes, only they won and we didn't," Owens shrugged.

The Wheeling coach said he told his team after the game that "they did it real good. I never could complain about the hustle on this court."

Curt Crick's scoring (23 points) helped us out of our course, and I was impressed with Donny Wright in his first varsity game. But I'd really have trouble singling anyone out as our best players Friday," Owens added.

KINEMAN said the same thing about his team, commenting: "We have to have balance to win, and we had a balanced effort Friday. I'd have to give both sets of boys a lot of credit. Wheeling and Prospect are the 100-year basketball teams in this area."

St. Victor also turned in twice as many second-place finishes as the visiting Falcons. The Lions had 10 second-place finishes in individual events while Forest View had four. St. Victor topped out in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 1:00.7 and was cruising along with a 50-17 lead in the 100-yard freestyle. But then the Lions took first in the 100-yard breaststroke and in the 400-yard freestyle rally to score the win.

Cardinals Survive Rally, Slam Forest View, 23-14

Arlington bulls up a big lead, staved off a Forest View rally and downed the Falcons 23-14 in a 100-suburban League wrestling meet Friday night.

The win gave the Cardinals a 2-0 dual meet record and an MSJ mark of 2-0.

The Cards controlled the upset of the win. The Cardinals led 10-0 in the pinfall meet after Forest View could light its first win in the season.

GARY PROCHASKA got the Card upset rolling by whipping Forest View's 155-pounder, Steve Hansen, 9-2. Before the Falcons won a 10-2 (Hanshaw of Tom Moore and Jim Whitnell) best John Martin, 4-2.

With a 10-0 lead, the Cardinals got off the ground as Brian Wolf blanked Gary Brash, 5-0, a KEVIN MEACHAM, the Cards' first 165-pounder, disposed of Mike McCoy 10-0 in the 165-pound heavyweight class.

With the win, Forest View 180-pounder Spencer Bob Savage followed with a 10-0 (Lanning of the Cardinals) 10-0.

"It was a pretty even match," said Card Coach Bill Myers of the Cardinals' 10-0 win. "But I think it was a good win for a take down and a good win for a take down and a good win for a take down."

Protests Keep 'Finger Plan' in Talking Stage

The Northwestern Illinois Planning Commission did not take action to approve its controversial "finger plan" last Thursday as we expected, but voted to hold more discussion on it.

One of the reasons which prevented the plan's approval was the protest from members of the Northwest Municipal Conference, which includes Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Elk Grove Village, and other nearby communities.

The plan commission is planning to study a long-range corridor plan with high density housing along the primary transportation routes, with low density housing being built away from the routes.

Included in the plan would be open space areas, parks and forest preserves, improved expressways, and a long corridor of high-rise office buildings and apartments near such routes as the Chicago and North Western Railway.

The commission held a public hearing Nov. 29 when Arlington Heights Mayor John Woods is a fervent opponent, said that the plan be dropped in favor of a satellite city plan. The second plan would feature several cities around Chicago with open space in between.

Also doubted if much of the open space in the plan could be purchased. Said one of the members of the municipal conference asking that some reconciliation be made between the two government bodies. To date, no meeting between the conference and the commission has been arranged.

Boy, Oh, Boy B.O.B. Are Busy

"No Coffee! If I can't take my coffee break - something's wrong!" is the lament of Bud Trump (Adam Weiss), who is pictured here sitting at a table with a coffee machine. He is looking down at the machine, which is empty.

While thousands of Northwest suburban residents breathlessly count the hours until Christmas and New Years, the members of the Best Off Broadway Players join in with an extra sigh of frustration. Opening night of their next production is a week away.

For the cast and crew of "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying," the holidays mean double trouble. It is hard to imagine these people shopping, baking, planning parties, and addressing cards like everyone else and then in addition attending rehearsals every night. Not to mention the devoted ones who are sewing costumes, constructing sets, painting backdrops, organizing the payroll, and writing publicity.

WELL, WHO ARE THESE PEOPLE? The cast alone consists of about 40. Heading up the list of leads is a resident of Mount Prospect, Peter Piper, who takes on the incredible task of succeeding in business without really trying in J. Pierrepont Finch.

Needless to say, for every boy there is a girl - and this is just where Pat Kelly of Des Plaines comes in as the harpy-eyed Rosemary who sings that she would be "Happy To Keep His Dinner Warm." Then to spruce up the action a bit more, we have Albert H. Hoffman of Arlington Heights as the playboy president - J.B. Bigley. And as his playmate, Hedy La Rue, Carol Vonnor of Hoffman Estates very aptly fills the bill. Adam Weiss of Wauconda takes great delight in playing the part of Bud Trump - the president's smart sleek nephew - and Betty Jane Swingle of Elk Grove Village takes on the versatile role of Betty - an executive secretary.

Other up and coming executives are Nate Levin of Hoffman Estates, Dick Moderbach and Roy Quaid of Arlington Heights, Harry Brown of Chicago, Allen Johnson of Hoffman Estates, Bob Anderson of Glenview, George Bull of Palatine, Art Dem of Round Lake, and Lucie Besterfield of Barrington.

OF COURSE NO BUSINESS OR MUSICAL PLAY is complete without a good supply of feminine features. This is where Lynn Debernard of Barrington and Jeanne Tucker of Mount Prospect come in as the able bodied secretaries to these executives of Mount Wide Wicket Co. Additional office workers such as two comical secretaries, are played by Marguerite Harrell of Mount Prospect and Linda Heston of Hoffman Estates.

Make a New Year's resolution right now to break out of your shell and live a little. The dates are Jan. 3-6 and 12-13 at Wheeling High School, Cal. Lima Rainbird, at 577-0616 for tickets or information.

Your Horoscope

FOR WEDNESDAY

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) - Take care how you verbalize your feelings today. What you say to others now may be remembered a long time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) - Don't put off coming tasks begun yesterday. You'll be needing all your spare time for the holidays.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) - Holiday matters may present something of a problem today as you try to cover more ground than you perhaps have time for.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) - Show others that your reputation for dependability has been well-earned. Don't waste your time on trivia.

ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) - The wine Aries will accept contentment associated with the coming holidays rather than fight against them. Consider calmly.

Taurus (Apr. 21 - May 21) - Let nothing stand in the way of your keeping a promise. Next time, make sure that it is not one made in haste!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) - Take into consideration the wants of loved ones and you will ease your holiday stress considerably. Make the right choice.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) - Choose your gift according to the desires of the recipient, not the giver. Take care, however, that extravagance doesn't win out.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) - Look on the bright side. The added labor required to insure success of the holidays will be well worth it in the end.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) - This is no time for putting on your various face. Get with the spirit of the season and you'll be on your way.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) - The Libra who keeps clear of the lighter side of these days may regret it as the holidays grow closer. Enjoy life with a smile.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 23) - You can express your feelings in other ways than through material gifts. A gift of spirit can be impressive.

Grade School Pupils To Present 3 Plays

Three Christmas plays will be held this week in the schools of Prospect Heights. District 23.

An original play by the accelerated second grade of Bessy Ross School will be presented for students and parents at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

"Bedouin's Halls," a contemporary play about a family with teenage children, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday at MacArthur Junior High School. The play will be given by seventh and eighth graders under the direction of Mrs. Janet Weston.

Students at Ann Sullivan School will present a play at 1:30 p.m. Friday. The junior high school band and chorus of MacArthur will give a concert at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

John Major School will have two assemblies for its students on Friday, the last day of school, but is planning to special programs for the Christmas week. Final point of Christmas decorating at the school is a large tree in the school's central resource center which is trimmed with ornaments made by the children.

Students in District 23 include Ann Sullivan, Bessy Ross and John Major elementary schools and MacArthur Junior High School.

Bids for City Hall Addition 'Too High'

The bids on construction of the proposed addition to Ealing Meadows City Hall disappointed city officials last night. None has been selected yet.

"It was figuring in the neighborhood of $170,000 to $180,000, but almost all the submitted are around $200,000 to $220,000," Alderman James Watson said.

He is chairman of the finance committee assigned to investigate the feasibility of undergoing the construction at this time.

What to do about the high bids will be discussed Thursday evening when the Finance Committee and the City Hall Committee hold a joint meeting, along with the Architects who drew the plans for the proposed addition.

The lowest of the seven bids, that of J. H. Trappan, proposed a base cost of $197,000. All the rest ranged between $205,000 and $223,000.

The Secrets of Enameling

Richard Loving will be guest artist in Countryside Art Center's Jan. 4 meeting at 8 p.m. at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights. Loving will present a lecture-demonstration, "Enameling As An Art Form." He will begin with a basic demonstration using a kiln and will show slides of his own work, early enamel of the 14th century and classic contemporary enamels.

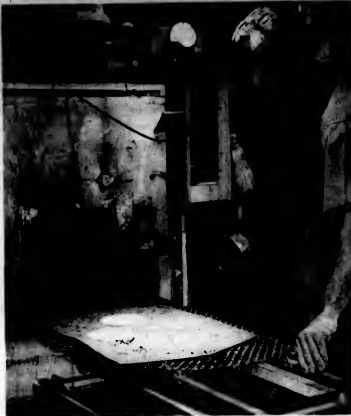

Loving is an assistant professor of enamel, enameling and figure drawing teacher at the Chicago Art Institute School and teaches figure drawing at Countryside.

He studied to be a painter in oils in New York and then began a period of jewelry making and welding with enamel," he said. "I've concentrated lately with drawing. I've found the drawing medium fits my conception and the complexity of my ideas at the present time with the use of black and white media rather than color and physical textures," he said.

LOVING IS an entirely self-taught enamelist and says, "No one knows when enameling was invented, for it is partially a painting medium and a very old art." He has recently been commissioned to do a large triptych at Concordia Lutheran College, an enamel presented during the 40th anniversary of Lutheranism, and a wall-mounted piece for the United States in New Jersey.

He is represented by Kover Gallery, 852 N. Michigan Ave. in Chicago and has exhibited nationally in the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York and at a three-man show at the Art Institute of Chicago.

The public... and to this meeting and for more information may contact Countryside Art Gallery, 253-3005.

Richard Loving will begin his program for the Countryside Art Center, Jan. 4 at Pioneer Park with a basic demonstration of enameling using a kiln.

Holiday Coffee

A Christmas coffee for sorority girls and their mothers will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 27 at Pioneer Park, 400 S. Forest, Arlington Heights.

The party is sponsored by members of the Northwest Suburban Panhellenic Conference and will give mothers and daughters a morning to visit together. All college girls who are active or pledges in National Panhellenic sororities are invited.

The holiday coffee will also give collegians an opportunity to meet their old high school friends and to compare notes on sorority and college life at different campuses across the country.

Chairman of the party is Mrs. James Viger, Mount Prospect. Those wishing to attend may call her at 436-0400 or Mr. Richard Doyle, Mount Prospect, at 253-8563.

At Brass Rail

The 50-voice St. Viator choir will sing in the main dining room of the Brass Rail restaurant beginning at 7 p.m. and continuing through the dinner hour Thursday, Dec. 21.

WHAT IS CHRISTMAS?

By Brett Campol

What is Christmas?
Do you know?
Christmas is the time for snow.
Christmas is nice,
Christmas is spice,
Christmas is the birth of Christ.

Christmas is joy,
Christmas is love,
Christmas is the time for toys.

Are You Building Memories?

BY BETTY ANBLIE

Take time out a moment between all your rushing—your buying-your wrapping—your card writing—your baking and decorating to remember a holiday memory. Remember anything in particular? Was there any one thing, you, as part of a family, did at this season that made the holiday really special for you?

I RECENTLY saw a woman in a department store rushing from counter to counter as though her life depended upon getting the two shopping bags hanging from her wrist comfortably full. She looked warm and hurried. Her hat was slipping off the back of her head and she threw her coat back from her shoulders. She seemed bent and exhausted as she hurried several more, much crowded out lines.

I REMEMBER as a child we exchanged notes and cards and wrote for Christmas at the family get together for Thanksgiving. But the actual buying didn't start until well on toward the middle of December.

My buying was confined to the local variety store where a whole dollar for each family member earned like a fortune. To invest, I remember the walk home through the early darkness with my packages clutched in mittened hands, and snow crunching under my buckled pathos.

THE DAY before Christmas we set out to deliver our presents to our relatives, stopping for coffee and special Romanian sweet rolls to lighten fragments with fresh baked goods.

THERE was always a 13 egg doll-like cake from an aunt who rose early Christmas eve to bake her Christmas presents. No one in my family ever baked for the holiday season we warmly collected our still warm Christmas cakes, fruit tarts, cakes, macaroons and colored sugar sprinkled cookies from Aunt Mary.

Uncle Joe always carried something from wood for us; an animal for the children, a watch or piece of jewelry required now as good as new for other family members. Grandma made doll clothes or leg dolls and embroidered lace pieces for tables and dresses.

Everyone gave something of themselves. Which is maybe why even after all these years I remember the gift.

THE CANDY found in our stockings or the large orange at the toe were all special because we didn't have those things at our finger tips all year long. Now it must be a state of orange or a tower of sweets to stir our excitement.

—Now that'd be a good mark of doll clothes and the states or tied or doll-the one more than my young sister, Mary. But I wonder. Are we happier for all we get?

I've found, none and doubtless remember the songs we always sang on Christmas eve with all of us together and the room softly lit with candles. The smell of holly and pine branches that freshen a home. The time trimming that the older children took part in doing. The hectic reading of directions to put both B into B into A in assembling a doll house.

AND THAT final, wonderful, quiet moment with stockings all hung at the fireplace and filled we turn on the tree lights to make a fairland of enchantment of even the plainest room. A lump in our throats at such quiet beauty and an arm about each other's shoulders we'd sing "Silent Night".

Maybe now memories are made of that first glimpse of children's who see the tree in it all as splendid for the first time Christmas morning their eyes reflecting the wonder of the moment.

JOANNE JOHNS lights the last candle on the handcarved Christmas Tree made by her great grandfather, Ernst Schuster around 1875. The host of the candles makes the tree revolve.

Your Horoscope

FOR THURSDAY

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21) - It may take considerable courage to approach another on a private matter, but the wine Sagittarius will take the corn.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19) - Make yourself worthy of others' admiration. Be especially careful of the example you set for children.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18) - Only the widest Aquarius will bide off more than he can chew. There are times for gauging your energy correctly.
PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20) - You should find out today whether or not you have inherited loyalty to your cause. Others will tip their hands.
ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19) - Don't let the holidays catch you unaware. Take care of last-minute details now, before the final rush begins.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20) - Another's happiness may well depend upon the kind of decisions you make today, but in actual the future events have done you.
GEMINI (May 21 - June 20) - Stick close to home. Help plan the holiday festivities with those you love best. Go out of your way to assist.
CANCER (June 21 - July 20) - Holiday plans could easily be upset today if you are too alert to changes that come your way. Include others.
LEO (July 21 - Aug. 22) - The excitement of children should set the home mood. Don't bring things of depression home with you or you may spoil things.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22) - Bring your personality to bear on the day's difficulties. You can cross anxiety out of new chaos if you keep your wits about you.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22) - Take the opportunity to play an important part in another's life today. Let the stars of the coming holidays begin.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21) - Take no unnecessary risks today. You would easily court accidents if you attempt to show off for another's benefit.

Palsy Fund Leaders Named

Two area residents have been named choruses of the United Cerebral Palsy of Chicago's 1968 Musical.

Mrs. William Brash, 342 S. Maple, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Elbert Kamp, 1119 N. Drury Ln., Arlington Heights, will each head their respective area's drive to raise money for the charity.

The goal for the drive this year is $500,000 from Cook, DuPage and Kane Counties.

The "55 minute march" drive is based on the fact that one child is born in the United States every 53 minutes with the crippling disease.

Wet Weather Delays Harper Construction

Ten working days were lost because of wet weather at the site of the Harper College campus in Palatine during November, but sufficient foundation work on two buildings has been completed so that work can continue throughout the winter.

A total of 11 buildings are slated for the first construction phase at the campus in the fall. The college is scheduled to open classes on its permanent campus in September, 1969.

About 65 per cent of the excavation and site work has been completed and 50 per cent of the work on storm sewers is also complete.

Harper College serves Wheeling, Palatine, Elk Grove and Schaumburg townships and Barrington.

St. James Tips Miner Twice

St. James dealt Miner Junior High School a dual loss in an exhibition basketball doubleheader Dec. 14.

The St. James seventh grade whipped Miner, 42-34. St. James led the miners with 12 points, but Gary Ruog of Miner paced all scorers with 14.

St. James also took the eighth grade from Miner a 43-31 loss. Curt Hanson's 17 points was the high mark for the visitors. St. James won while the miners lost 19-17.

St. James had six points each.

My Christmas Wish

Another in the series of special holiday songs, "My Christmas Wish" was written by Jan Bone.

Living in Palatine with her husband and four sons, Mrs. Bone successfully carries on the busy role of wife, mother, journalist and composer.

A graduate of Cornell University where she majored in English education and music, she started her career by writing for college musicals with Richard Suchman. Among her many accomplishments is the music for the Arlington Heights 125th Anniversary Pageant presented in 1961. She made her radio debut with Mitch Miller and Jan Murray and has worked locally with children and instrumental youth groups at the Presbyterian Church of Palatine.

She also composed the music for another in this special group of original holiday songs "John Doe Goes to Bethlehem," collaborating with Dolores Haugh.

Young Takes Two Firsts

West Leyden Sinks Knights

Prospect swimmer took just three first places as the Knights squad captured 29-34 by West Leyden yesterday. Jim Young finished first in the 200-yard freestyle and in the 400-yard freestyle and Aluk, Ohio was first in the diving competition. But they little help as the Knights showed their second straight win.

A fifth of a second cost Prospect's sophomore a win in the muley relay and in the most as they fell to Leyden, 50-45.

The Prospect variety also dropped the muley relay and lost the first place in the 100-yard freestyle in the lead after that.

YOUNG'S WIN IN THE 200-yard freestyle narrowed the gap to 11-5, but Leyden took first and third in the 50-yard free and then walked away with first and second in the 200-yard individual muley, building a 2-5-1 lead.

Ohio's diving performance was 27-16, but the home team won the 100-yard butterfly, the 100-yard freestyle and the 100-yard backstroke. Following the lead to 42-37 with just three events to go.

Young made the most of the event by taking the 400-yard freestyle with a 5:35.7 lead and then West Leyden swept the remaining events.

"Young did a real good job today," said Knight Coach Don Barrett. "So did Kurt Brown, the 200 individual muley. We hadn't expected a second in that event."

For Ohio, the first place in diving was won in three meets this season.

Brown (P), 3. Zimmerman (W), 4. Vlasner (P), Time: 2:38.

Diving: 1. Otto (P), 2. Smith (P), Time: 1:00.

100-yard butterfly: 1. Hachinger (W), 2. Baine (P), Time: 1:44.5.

100-yard freestyle: 1. Burt (W), 2. Pirth (P), 3. Roberts (W), 4. Brown (P), Time: 4:57.

100-yard backstroke: 1. Jones (W), 2. Hente (P), Time: 1:44.5.

400-yard relay: 1. West Leyden (Kerker, Zimmerman, Roberts, Waksak), 2. Prospect (Bender, Flynn, Brown, Robertson), Time: 4:08.

Gren Gymnasts Shot Down Twice

Elk Grove's variety gymnasts - handicapped because they have no trampolines or tumblers - lost their first two dual meets of the season over the weekend.

The Gren frosh-neph squared matters a little by winning both meets, but their upstart colleagues were better. 77-54 by Niles West and 72-59 by Addison Trail.

Dave Swenson on the horizontal bar and Owen Walker in tumbling only scored in both meets as Elk Grove's frosh-neph dumped Niles West 74-58 and Addison Trail 76-55.

Ma Milton on the trampoline, Wayne Olson on the rings, and Benny Fernandez brother Orlando on the horizontal bar joined Swenson and Walker in winning first against Niles West. Fernandez was the Gren's high point mark, adding a fourth in tumbling to his first place.

Donie Barley, with a first on the rings and a second on the parallel bars, paced Elk Grove against Addison Trail with 12 points.

Dave Salata on the horse picked up another Gren first while Bill Helting won the trampoline with a 5.4 judge's points, high for the meet in any event.

Though they trailed only 41-39 in scores for the horse, parallel bars, horizontal bar, and rings, the Gren lost 17 points in trampoline and tumbling competition and would have lost 20 if Niles West had been able to find a third trampoline.

Individual Elk Grove results:

Niles West 77-54 by Elk Grove 76-55.

Side horse: 4. Tomadisi, 3. Carter, 5. Simon.

Horizontal bar: 4. B. Fernandez, 2. Simon, 3. Sanders.

Parallel bars: 1. B. Fernandez, 2. Simon, 3. Sanders.

Elk Grove 72-59 by Addison Trail 76-55.

Side horse: 2. Carter, 4. Tomadisi, 5. Simon.

Horizontal bar: 2. Simon, 3. Sanders.

Parallel bars: 2. Simon, 3. Sanders, 4. Fernandez.

THE GREN'S had no first place against the Blazers, but managed three 2-3-4 performances. Dave Simon trampoline, 12 points and Fernandez 11.

Simon took second on the parallel bars and backstroke and a fifth on the horse.

VARISITY Elk Grove Coach Fred Guion says he has lost all his variety trampoline and tumbling and decides because of "disciplinary problems and injuries."

In losing to Addison Trail, Elk Grove had a 48-42 advantage in the four events competed in, but lost when it again surrendered 17 points in tumbling and trampoline.

PROSPECT'S variety efforts were crippled by an injury to the frosh-neph 150-pounder who was brought up to get along without two first places in the 200 and 400-yard freestyle.

Don Evans, who has worked the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events for the variety, was out with a strap throw. Even so, they may miss the Knight's next meet, against Fawn View Thursday at 7 p.m. in Victor's pool.

Craig Hutchinson and Robin Renick, who usually swim with the frosh-neph, were plugging holes on the variety yesterday.

Wants Priority Shift

Suburbs Being Shortchanged, Says Sanitary Dist. Trustee

By Charles Mortenson

Metropolitan Sanitary District Trustee Gerald Marks was expected to demand this afternoon a $12 million shift in the allocation of construction priorities to provide sewers and sewage treatment plants for the Northwest suburbs.

He said he would demand the shifting of funds in a budget hearing of the Sanitary District scheduled for today.

"NORTHWEST suburbs are being shortchanged and I believe their growth is impeded," Marks said. "I want to members of the Northwest Metropolitan Conference in Grove Village."

Marks said that two multimillion dollar projects, one planned for O'Hare Airport and the other for Elk Grove are lined in the proposed budget.

Both of the projects would provide sewage treatment facilities and water reclamation.

"THE FIRST project, cost about $11 million, is called the Salt Creek and Water Reclamation Plant and project for it is expected to be brought in 1968. Contract plans are not scheduled to go out for bids until 1970."

The O'Hare Reclamation Water Plant will cost about $25 million but is not considered for 1970.

The trustee blamed the slippage of the Sanitary District's budget for lack of political support for his recommendations for sewer construction.

"THE YEAR of questioning the recommendations of the Sanitary District staff because of lack of political support for his recommendations for sewer construction."

"We are one of the oldest school districts in Illinois to have a driver education program," Lerner said.

He said the first program was started in 1937 at Normal Community High School in Normal, and the first simulator in a classroom, were used at Lake Forest High School in 1940.

"At one time it was part of the English course and then part of the science course. Gradually it underwent a process of evolution to the present program," Lerner said.

IN ILLINOIS, classroom instruction in Driver Education is a requirement for graduation. The laboratory section must be taught to any eligible student and all must have an opportunity to enter the course.

budget proposals on construction program overlook priorities set up in a five-year program approved by the State Legislature in 1965. He added:

"THE PROPOSED budget, Marks said, places emphasis on providing service to the growing Northwest suburbs."

Marks urged the members of the district's budgetary hearings in order to put pressure on its trustees to support the shifting of the funds.

Presidents John G. Woods of Arlington Heights and Daniel Congrove of Mount Prospect were present at last night's meeting.

As an example of misjudgment on the importance of different projects, Marks said a $2.5-million bid sent out Wednesday by the Sanitary District.

The money is to be spent for sewer lines in an area whose priority in the legislative program placed in the early 1970s projects and which paid $200 in taxes, according to Marks.

ON THE OTHER hand, the trustee said, a sewer in Elk Grove Township which cost $200 in taxes, according to Marks.

Revenue from Arlington Park Boosts School Dist. Budgets

By RICHARD CRAB

Arlington Park, including the race track and Carousel Hotel, has received the largest local real estate taxes in the city for the past year.

The city's real estate taxes contributed nearly three-quarters of the total real estate taxes in the city for the past year.

High School District 214 which serves Wheeling and Elk Grove Townships and part of Palatine Township has received in the last five years approximately $275,000 or more than one-third of the total real estate tax from Arlington Park.

ARLINGTON PARK is one of the largest contributors of tax funds to Dist. 214, possibly being surpassed by United States in Elk Grove Township and Bond.

Shopping Center in Arlington Park has received 75 percent of Arlington Park's real estate taxes in the last five years.

Principal Melvin Spence said a "we're sorry" note home with students' money, explaining that more than 200 students had been absent from the school each day during the past two weeks.

He also said that the four trustees involved in the performance of "The Nutcracker" and the band program had been ill during the last week of the season.

He apologized for the last notice, but said that there was no alternative.

real estate and personal tax. Real estate taxes for 1967 period totaled $920,065.40. Real estate taxes paid this year came to $2,517,170.

ACCORDING to Palatine Township tax collector, Albert De Pau, Arlington Park pays the largest real estate tax in the township. The next largest payer of real estate taxes is $116,000. The 5-year average assessed to more than $68,000. Real estate taxes paid by year by Arlington Park are as follows:

1963 - $136,498.41
1964 - $169,829.96
1965 - $194,322.08
1966 - $205,990.01
1967 - $215,717.02

The non-school taxing body receiving the largest payment from the city is Cook County, which received $114,847.33. The Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago received $11,963.28. The Salt 116,000 Park District received $7,034.15.

Right -- A television cameraman for NBC-TV, Channel 5, films an interview conducted by Bob Hale (right) with Howard Lester, co-director of the High School Dist. 214 driver education program. The television crew filmed a program at Wheeling High School this week that will be broadcast locally and through national NBC stations.

Wheeling High Student Drivers To Appear on Nationwide TV

By MAXINE TYMA

Students in High School Dist. 214 are driving education to prominence.

A television crew from NBC, channel 5 (WNBC) visited Wheeling High School Tuesday morning to film students participating in the "lab" phase of the Driver Education program.

Commentator Bob Hale watched instruction, Roger Steingard and Howard Lester, the student drivers, through their faces by means of a wide-angle and driving range.

THE SHOW was being filmed for "Memorandum" on Channel 5 and will be televised Sunday, Dec. 31, at 9 a.m. and 12:30 a.m. Tuesday (it will be listed on Monday night's schedule in TV guide).

Hale said the high school district was selected for the program because it is one of the three outstanding school districts in the nation for driver education and it is close to Chicago.

Hale interviewed the students and the instructors and narrated the program as a cameraman recorded the scenes of the teenage drivers making left and right turns in the high school parking lot.

Howard Lester, co-director for health, safety, physical education and athletics for Dist. 214 says the comprehensive program offered the students makes it an outstanding one in its field.

Classroom instruction, a mobile unit simulator, a driving range and day and night road driving are included in the program.

SEVENTY-FIVE per cent of the junior students in the district take driver education as part of their safety education program," Lester said.

He estimates that 2,000 students who have participated in the program during the 1967-68 school year.

To participate in the laboratory or driving range phase of the program, the student must have completed the classroom instruction of the course.

Under legislation passed this summer in Illinois, if a student has not taken a driver's license, he will have to be 18 years old before he can obtain his driver's license. The new law is effective in January, 1968.

"The students who have no experience at all with driving but the program is very successful and they are very happy with it," said Lester.

something the public is aware is going on but they don't know how we do these things," he said.

Lester said driver education has been taught in Dist. 214 since 1963 and has been taught in Illinois schools since the 1930s.

It studies the instructor to observe the driving technique while the student is alone and in control of the car.

The driving range was used for the first time this June. The simulator is a mobile unit that travels to each of the schools in the district - Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, Wheeling and Elk Grove - and has movie facilities and "behind the wheel" apparatus.

LESTER said the television show, which will be broadcast on Sunday, is a first for the district. Lester said another mobile unit program, "The Teaching of Driving in Illinois," was shown in 1964.

Lightning Hits Wires
Lapsing street telephone wires early this morning near the intersection of Pauline and 1616 N. Chicago.

John Paulov told Arlington Heights Police that his home had been struck by lightning. Police said the telephone wires were damaged and the shock traveled through the basement of the Paulov home and generated some smoke.

Suburbs Being Shortchanged, Says Sanitary Dist. Trustee

Ed. Grove Township, he said, paid $754,000 in sanitary district taxes in 1966.

"Part of this amount is due to past boards, who under the guise of reducing taxes, just deferred building facilities desperately needed," Marks said.

"In flood and pollution control and in the purchase of land, the proposed budget makes the same mistake. Marks said. 'It places future programs ahead of others which are desperately needed now. He said that deferring the purchase of reservoirs for the retention of storm waters in the Northwest suburbs has been a false economy because the land will have to be bought anyway and will cost considerably more.

ANOTHER error in the district's program, according to Marks, is an attempt to try to do too many things at a time instead of concentrating on one program. As an example he cited the $1.1 billion accelerated sewerage program for years. That program, he said, is already behind because money that had been budgeted by the district did not materialize.

The state and the federal government, he claimed, did not come through with anticipated grants.

BLT, HE SAID, it would be comparatively inexpensive to clean-up the Des Plaines River.

"We must start paying attention to the maintenance and both of sewerage treatment and sewer current community needs instead of seeking publicity for the long range planning," Marks said.

The sanitary district, according to the trustee, still has to do the very basic job of catching up with delayed and deferred sewerage collection and treatment facilities.

City Hall Bids Under Review

The high bids on construction of the proposed addition to Rolling Meadows City Hall which were opened Tuesday evening will be discussed tonight in a joint meeting of the finance and city hall committees.

The architects who drew the plans for the addition, from McCarthy-Mandeville & Assoc., will attend, according to Mayor Robert J. Meyer.

The lowest bid submitted was $197,000 for the remodeling the present building interior, building an extension to the first floor, and adding a second floor.

City officials were expecting the bids to be around $170,000 to $180,000. Tonight they will discuss possible substitutions in materials to be used to see if the cost of construction can be lowered.

Paint Gone

Paint supplies, valued at more than $200 were reported missing from a trailer at the Prince Charles Apartment site.

Mary Etkin, of 2415 S. Glenbrook Rd., told Arlington Heights Police Wednesday the material, from a truck owned by the M. Ecker Paint Company, was missing.

The items included a spray gun, eight paint brushes, five paint scrapers and ladders.

Office Robbed

About $500 in checks and $50 in cash were stolen during the night from the office of Dr. Clarence Craig at 11 S. Vall.

The burglar gained entry through a basement door of the building. To get into the office of Craig a dentist, he kicked in a glass window.

Arlington Heights police believe other offices in the building, the doors to which were open, also were entered by the intruder although nothing is reported missing.

$900,000 Dividend By Arlington Hts. Federal Savings

More than $900,000 in dividends will be paid savings customers of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn. on Dec. 31. Paul E. Collins, association president, announced Wednesday. This will be the largest semi-annual distribution in the association's history, he said.

"The amount of savings and the savings accounts of our savers becomes greater every year—annual period, and represents an increasingly greater impact on the economy of our growing community."

This distribution will be the 30th consecutive semi-annual payment, according to Collins.

ORGANIZED in 1953, the association paid its first dividend of $1,409 in June of that year. Total payments in earnings since then are almost $10 million, the association reported.

Promot total assets of the association are in excess of $47 million. It was reported, represented by 22,000 savings account holders and mortgage services to 3,000 area homeowners.

The association offers six percent one-year certificates in addition to the regular passbook savings accounts earning 4 1/2 percent yearly.

Police Ask Residents To Help Combat Vandalism

Arlington Heights Police are requesting the help of village residents to combat the vandalism and theft of Christmas decorations.

Since Dec. 1 the police have received more than 40 reports of damage to outside Christmas decorations. Most of the calls involve the theft of light bulbs or entire strings of lights. In some cases, the bulbs have been smashed against homes and light cords have been cut.

"THIS IS A SAD commentary on Christmas," said L.W. Calderwood, Arlington Heights Police Chief.

"We are making a door-to-door check in the areas in which the vandalism has been reported. The problem is that some residents don't notify the department. If the residents would call an immediately it might give us a pattern for certain areas," the chief said.

He said the detectives have been checking the schools and have been canvassing areas where damage has been reported.

Sgt. George Eklund and Det. Norman Buzze spent much of their time Wednesday evening talking to Arlington Heights residents.

"THE PEOPLE have been very cooperative but we haven't been able to pin down anything definite yet," said Sgt. Eklund.

He said that areas on the north side and the south side of the village have been reported as scenes of vandalism.

"When the residents call the police and report they saw 'three youths' running away or 'a young boy with a red stocking cap,' the police have been unable to locate the culprits.

Calderwood stressed that each incident of vandalism should be reported in an attempt to give the police a record of where the damage is and possible help to stop or control it.

Optimist Club To Have Entry In Rose Parade

The Arlington Heights Optimist Club will be represented at the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day.

Howard J. Lester, president of the club, said the group will be co-operating with the international organization to present a float 17 feet high, 10 feet wide and 15 feet long. It's construction and subject matter will be in keeping with the parade theme this year, "Wonderful World of Adventure." The float will tell the story of the Optimist's service to youth.

Lester said more than 300,000 flowers, mostly chrysanthemums, will be used but the actual placing of the flowers will be done in the final 48 hours before the parade.

A Visit from Santa Claus

Santa Claus has been visiting Cloverbrook Center for the Retarded for the last 10 years.

Today was a busy day at Cloverbrook Center for the Retarded when Santa Claus made a special visit to the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's Club. Merchandise from Rolling Meadows helped fill Santa's pack. Michael received his gift from Santa while Walter and his twin.

Jeffrey is offered stockings by Santa Claus and by Mrs. Schumacher, at the Christmas party. Lisa was helping her mother, Mrs. Randolph Schumacher, of the Junior, at the party.

Keeps Guests Busy

The Right Punch For Your Party

BY MARI-LYN HELFERS
Women's Editor

The wassail bowl is a traditional help to the hosts during the holiday party season. Guests may help themselves while the hostess is free to visit with them and tend to her last minute kitchen duties.

The Lemanian in Hawaii make their own special wassail to greet into a new year and have sent the recipe and a special season's greetings. May their Lemanian bring to you and yours health happiness and prosperity in the New Year.

OHOMOLE MALU NA ONE PUNCH

(Bottoms Up One Punch)

- 1 Orange orange juice
- 1 orange lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon rum
- 1 tea bag
- 1 slice pineapple
- 2 ounces Hawaiian rum
- Hot water

Combine the orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and Hawaiian rum into a glass or mug. Fill up the tea bag for two or three minutes. Add slice of pineapple.

KAMA'AIHA WAILERS TODAY

(Old Time's Whaler's Today)

Whalers introduced hot toddies to the islands, and the Hawaiians knew how to improve the beverage.

- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 slice lemon
- 1 slice cinnamon bark
- 2 ounces Hawaiian rum
- Hot water

Mix ingredients in small mug or hot glass with boiling water and with nutmeg.

NELSON'S BLEND

The way the Hawaiians adapted this old English beverage, it makes the palate of landlubber as well as old salt.

MALU MILK PUNCH

This is a holiday standby with a subtle twist.

- 4 ounces hot milk
- 1 egg yolk

Set full into the holidays with exotic Hawaiian holiday beverages from left: Malu Milk Punch, Nelson's Blend, Kama'AIHA Whaler's Today, Ohomole Malu Na One Punch and Capt. Cook's Revenge.

3 teaspoons better
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 pinch powdered cinnamon
1 pinch nutmeg
2 ounces Hawaiian rum
Combine all ingredients but the Hawaiian rum and shake. Add the rum and serve.

CAPTAIN COOK'S REVENGE

(Hawaiian Egg nog)

Capt. James Cook, discoverer of the Hawaiian Islands, had a slight alteration with the natives of Koolikuck. If they had this beverage, they probably would have shaken hands and made up.

- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons powdered sugar
- Small amount of milk
- Shake of Brandy
- Hawaiian rum
- Break egg into a large glass.
- Add small amount of milk, all glass with boiling water, mix well and add butter.

well being of every family. They are the only way the Tuberculosis Institute can carry on the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases," said Labock.

"We call on everyone who has not yet in his contributing to take time out during this busy holiday season to answer the Christmas Seal appeal."

Christmas Seal donations represent an important investment in the health of the nation's children.

Unusual Holiday Centerpiece

If you are looking for a centerpiece for your Christmas buffet, make one of molded green glass in the shape of a Christmas tree. Use a funnel plugged at one end with a cork as your mold. Sand the mold upright in a bowl and pour in the gelatin. Chill until set and remove on a plate of lettuce. Pop off the funnel portion and top with a red cherry.

To add a more festive look to the punch you are making this season, fill mugs with water and add red food coloring. Drop some maraschino cherries into the colored water and freeze. Little red ice rings will soon be ready to use.

When making a quantity of hors d'oeuvres for a party, make a tray of two thicknesses of cardboard and cover with aluminum foil. So they can be stacked in the refrigerator. Cut paper towel cardboard rollers into pieces for separators between trays. Cover with plastic wrap and hold of centers will stay fresh and time for serving.

IF A gift you have ordered will not arrive in time, cut a picture of a similar article from a newspaper or magazine and place it in a box. Include an explanatory note that gives the date you will be able to deliver the gift.

Are you running out of places to hide packages from your children? Put them in a pillow slip, pin to a coat hanger, cover with a coat or robe and hang in the clothes closet!

ARE YOU unable to find candles to match a special oil or scheme? Melt crayons of the needed shade in a metal container over low heat until very soft. This takes a very short time so don't leave the stove. Then with an old water color brush, paint the candles with up and down strokes. Beautiful effects can be made by mixing various colors.

During this week try to save time for playing all the games you are giving the children. By understanding the rules and seeing that every part is in good working order and no pieces are missing you may have much a head and your temper.

Now that you have almost finished your Christmas shopping, don't you wish you had started buying attractive gifts throughout the year?

Announce Teen Talent Contest

A series of "Little Miss Talent Show" pageants will be conducted in the Chicago area every year, according to George F. Koehnke, president of the Talent Teen Foundation of Illinois.

The pageants will be open to all girls 3 to 13 years. The Petite Division, 3 to 7, will compete in party dress and sportswear; the Little Miss Division, 7 to 13, will compete in formal wear, sportswear, and evening wear. Each act will be limited to about three minutes.

DISTRICT winners will compete for trophies, scholarships and other valuable awards in the final pageant in Chicago next summer. The contests will be conducted by the Talent Teen Foundation of Illinois.

The purpose of the "Little Miss Talent Show" pageant is to give recognition to all

'In A Manager, Born of Mary'

2. Shepherds on the hillside, watching,
Hear the angel sing,
Who men, who, who came to worship,
Precious gifts did bring.

4. Jesus, born to save us all,
Hear my humble plea,
Walk with me in work and pleasure,
Amen, save Thou me.

3. Born in a manger, meek and lowly.

Still Time To Make Fudge

Make a batch of Holiday Fudge for your family and friends.

There's still time to whip up some homemade candy and cookies for Christmas. They will delight your family and friends as gifts or simply as treats.

CHERRY NUT PICKES
1 1/2 cups pitted sweet sour cherries
3 tablespoons heavy cream
1 tablespoon water
1 egg mixed with nut
(chopped)

HOLIDAY FUDGE
4 tablespoons (1/2 stick) butter
1 cup (small can) undiled evaporated milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup marshmallows (or about 16 large marshmallows)

Mashed cherries (with stems, well drained) Drain marshmallows (cherries and set aside to dry. In the meantime, combine chocolate bits, syrup and water in small saucepan. Cover and heat pan on automatic burner set at medium-low flame, until chocolate mixture is melted.
Remove pan from burner and stir mixture until smooth. Dip cherries in chocolate until well-coated and roll in chopped nuts. Place chocolate covered cherries on waxed paper and chill until firm.

GLAZED NUTS
2 cups blanched almonds
2 cups walnut halves
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter

Arrange nuts on a baking sheet and toast in the oven at 325 degrees for approximately 25-30 minutes. During that time, stir and mix until evenly brown in color. In a small bowl, mix egg whites and gradually add salt and sugar until stiff peaks form.
Then fold in toasted nuts.

CHOCOLATE CHIPS
1 cup chocolate chips, nuts and marshmallows. If you have a modern range with temperature controlled burner select a low flame to fit pan size and a cooking temperature of 150 degrees.
Ingredients will melt slowly.
Increase temperature to 250 degrees on a high flame.
Allow ingredients to boil for an additional 5 minutes.
(Timing starts when bubbles appear around sides of pan.)
Remove pan from burner. Stir in chocolate chips, nuts and vanilla. Continue stirring until ingredients are melted. Pour fudge into a buttered 8-inch square pan, and set aside to cool. Cut fudge into serving pieces and garnish with pop-peroni. For special results, try mint-flavored
chocolate chips.

About the Author

Church choir in Mount Prospect, Palatine, Chicago, and Long Island, N.Y. have used the carol, "In A Manager, Born of Mary," written by
Mrs. Roberta Fisher of Mount Prospect.

This year, her daughter
Carol, a sophomore at Trinity College, a tutoring children at Lyle's House in Chicago. They too, are singing the carol.

Though Mrs. Fisher wrote the song several years ago, she had never showed it to anyone until a Freshman teacher training group met in Mount Prospect. They were discussing hymns for children.

"I have a song," she said simply—and by the end of the evening, the whole group was singing the carol.

Mother also of Susan (Mrs.
John Cochran of Wheeling, and of Larry, a junior at Northern Illinois University.
Mrs. Fisher works in Arlington Heights at the Wayne
Griffin Travel Agency.

Five Area Towns in Top Ten

BY RICHARD CRANE

Homes and apartment buildings in the Chicago area in 1967 are expected to reach the highest peak in a decade with Arlington Heights and northern Cook County setting the pace. Of the 10 top towns in building of new homes in Illinois and Indiana, five of them are in northern Cook County.

The five towns are within 20 miles of each other on a line extending from Northbrook, to Buffalo Grove, to Arlington Heights and to Schaumburg and Streamwood. Collectively, up to Dec. 1 the five north Cook County towns had issued for permits for more than 3,000 new houses. Arlington Heights accounts for one fourth of the total, having issued 765 permits in the first 11 months of the year.

NOVEMBER proved to be the fourth month this year in which records were set in the Chicago area for residential building. Bill H. Ransom, president of Bell Springs and Loan Assoc. of Chicago, said today:

"As a result of the big November opening, housing permits for 1967 in the Chicago metropolitan area will rival the total of 1955. Apartment buildings will reach a new record high since World War II."

Total housing units for the Chicago area in 1967 will be about 23 per cent ahead of last year, explained Ransom. "The 1967 total housing units are now projected at 47,500 completed with 38,554 in 1966. A total of 47,500 housing units were reported in 1967 and a record high of 48,632 units in 1958."

THE RECORD for total housing units in the Chicago area since World War II was established in 1955 when 52,870 units were reported of which 15 per cent were single family residences. In 1967 apartments will account for approximately 55 per cent of the housing units. Half of the apartments being built this year are located in the five towns in northern Cook County.

While Chicago dominates the building of apartments, Arlington Heights leads all other towns in Illinois and Indiana, including the city of

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS 1967 LEADER IN NEW HOMES
Town	New Homes	Average Cost	Value
Arlington Heights	765	$20,978.39	$27,412
Streamwood	663	$12,262.103	23,820
Buffalo Grove	603	$32,124.90	13,802
South Holland	539	$9,052.889	16,709
Northbrook	509	$10,776.50	20,391
Waukegan	328	$15,845.315	31,668
Waukegan	447	$7,556.600	16,905
Oak Lawn	328	$7,463.560	22,846
Downers Grove	316	$1,850.521	25,793
Naperville	285	$1,166.020	32,611

Chicago in the amount of money being invested in single family residences. At the end of 11 months of investment in new homes in Arlington Heights amounted to almost $21,000,000 as compared with $19,100,000 for the entire city of Chicago.

Other towns in northwest Cook County reported new home permits in November as follows: Palatine, 44; Mount Prospect, 5; Elk Grove Village, 2; Wheeling, 1; Barrington, 14; Rolling Meadows, 6; Hoffman Estates, 5; Hanover Park, 11 and Des Plaines, 14.

ONE significant shift occurred in November in the linings of the top ten leaders in new homes in northern Cook County. Schaumburg issued a record total of 107 single family resident permits in November, raising its total for 1967 to 43. This year boom in new homes in Schaumburg enabled the village to move ahead of Northbrook and take over the standing next to Arlington Heights.

It seems probable that the report for 1967 will list Arlington Heights, Schaumburg, Streamwood and Buffalo Grove in that order as the top home builders of the year.

Aid Indian Children

'Y' Warriors Conduct Toy Drive

More than 100 members of the Northwest Suburban YM-CAY-Warrior Boys Groups assisted by the Village Indians are sending toys and clothing to 40 Indian children, in grades one through four of the Wahpeton Indian School in Wahpeton, North Dakota, for Christmas.

Ninety percent of the Indian children who attend this off-reservation boarding school, supported by the U.S. Department of Interior, are there because of undesirable social and economic conditions existing on the reservations from which they come. J. W. Wellington, Superintendent of the Bureau of Indian Affairs at Wahpeton said.

Wellington wrote to YMCA officials thanking them for their concern.

"This is a tremendous Christmas gesture and I am sure that it will make Christmas Day and the holiday season a much brighter one for students who will not be going back to the reservations during the holiday season."

THE WARRIORS are being joined by similar groups at the North Suburban, West Suburban, and Oak Park YMCAs in their endeavor to make Christmas brighter for over 400 Indian children. Transportation for the gifts has been furnished by the National Y Company.

The Y-Warrior program at the Northwest Suburban YMCA is made up of fathers and their 4th and 5th grade sons whose purpose is to strengthen the companionship between them, officials said. The members attend "club" meetings in their homes and at the YMCA. They sponsor special father-son activities throughout the year.

Named Guides Of Automatic Explorer Post

Brian B. Loyd, 120 N. Lincoln St., Arlington Heights, and John H. Wainwright, 203 N. Stevenson St., Mount Prospect, have been named to a committee to guide the Automatic Electric Company's Explorer Post for the current school year. Also selected was Edward J. Donah of Palatine.

The program is sponsored by The Scout Woods Area Council of the Boy Scouts and is designed for high school boys, 14 years of age and older. The Automatic Electric Co. is in Northlake.

2d Graders Run Own Supermarket

Children of Remona Kuhn's second grade class at Ivy Hill school in Arlington Heights have organized their own supermarket-complex with canned goods, frozen foods, laundry supplies, wall posters and a manager.

It is a part of the class social studies and how a community is provided with food, clothing and shelter. The children themselves developed the idea. Every class is different, said Mrs. Kuhn. "This particular group of children is unusual. We have used the same general approach in the past but this class has carried matters further."

"A project such as this provides instruction in so many different things. We have learned a great deal about the various kinds of food. Children have an opportunity to use their arithmetic in making purchases and figuring their change. They have learned how important it is to keep everything clean and in place. The class elects the manager. This gave everyone a experience in group organization."

The supermarket project attracted so much attention that other classes of Ivy Hill school came to make purchases.

finish your Christmas shopping early this year?

It's a good feeling, isn't it?

You got to the stores just a little bit earlier than other people. The selection was bigger. The service was better. And you avoided all those crowds.

It all goes to show that shopping early does have its advantages. And it may even prove a point we've been trying to make for some time about grocery shopping. If you plan your shopping trips early in the week, you enjoy a lot of things weekend shoppers miss.

Come to Jewel bright and early any Monday morning and see what we mean. Browse leisurely through Jewel's exciting shops. Pick out all your everyday grocery needs at "Miracle Prices." Relax and enjoy the friendly attention Jewel folks have time to show you.

You'll never go back to being a late-minute shopper again.

Skating, Hockey Plans Set

The Prospect Heights Park District Board of Commissioners completed plans for ice skating and hockey playing Monday night.

Community Service Club earlier gave the park district permission to build two rinks north of the Prospect Heights Lions Park property at Elm St. and Camp McDonald Rd.

Commissioners Dennis Schaechner and Joseph Lantini, supervisors of the program, described the new program.

"The program will include the installation of a warming house, fencing, heating, electricity, and lighting," Schaechner said. "We would also like to provide two sets of goals, and a goal cage, park district jacks for the goals and supervisors, and a public phone."

N.W. Suburbs May Benefit

Sanitary Dist. to Make Up Construction Priority List

By Charles McWhorter

A list of priorities which may result in a greater share of the northwest suburbs of $45 million in construction expenditures during 1968, will be set up by the Metropolitan Sanitary District.

The creation of the list of priorities will categorize 100 programs according to their importance in combating water pollution and flooding and will take under consideration the individual community's needs.

The Sanitary District consists of more than 100 villages and cities in the Chicago area.

TRUSTEE Gerald Marks of the sanitary district, who yesterday demanded a shift in the schedule of dates of construction projects in order to provide $12 million for sewers and sewage treatment facilities in the northwest suburbs, was one of the main supporters of the priority list.

Trustee Valentin (Jack) Marks said a successful effort against a proposed accepting the 1968 budget without setting any priorities on its program.

Marks' next move will apparently be to place high on the list the construction of the O'Hare and Salt Creek (Elk Grove) water reclamation plants and water retention basins in this area.

THOSE projects will help develop facilities in the Arlington Heights - Mount Prospect area and assist in the containment of floods.

During the deliberations of the Sanitary District trustees, a telegram was received from Jack Pahl, president of Elk Grove Village, urging support of Marks' position.

Pahl, who is a chairman of the Northwest Municipal Conference, wrote, "We support trustee Marks' recommendation to adjust priorities to cope with the immediate needs of the Elk Grove area for flood control projects and sanitary treatment facilities."

"We urge that funds be made available immediately for these purposes."

WEDNESDAY, in a meeting of the Northwest Municipal Conference, Marks announced his intention to press for more facilities in the area and he stated, "northwest suburbs are being shortchanged and I believe their growth is impeded."

In yesterday's budgetary meeting of the trustees, which continued through the day and into the evening, Marks attacked projects which would provide sewers and sewage treatment facilities in the southern part of Cook County.

That area, he said, does not have as pressing needs as the northwest suburbs.

He vigorously questioned both general superintendent Vinton Bacon and Paul Langdon of Greenley and Hammet, consulting engineers.

TRUSTEE George Thiem, assistant to the president, said to us and he stated, "northwest suburbs are being shortchanged and I believe their growth is impeded."

Bacon told a Day reporter, "Tell your readers that they are receiving a very good share of the program."

"We are running a tight schedule and we cannot possibly accelerate those projects anymore. It takes a long

Sanitary Dist. Tax Rate Hiked By 10 Per Cent

The Metropolitan Sanitary District tax rate was tentatively raised by 10 per cent Thursday in a budget meeting of the trustees.

The budget, which shows expected 1968 appropriations of $83.6 million, will include a .3497 per $100 of assessed valuation of property, or .0317 more than in 1967.

That means the property owner in the district will pay $34.97 for every $10,000 of assessed valuation of his property, or $3.17 more than in 1967.

The assets of valuation of property is nearly about 40 per cent in market value, experts say.

The tax hike will be added to the construction fund of the Sanitary District which is expected to spend close to $43 million.

The district's corporate fund, according to the proposed budget, is estimated to spend about $33 million in 1968, making up a total of about $76 million in expenditures.

Universal Oil Co. Merger Announced

Officers of two northern Cook County firms agreed today on merger terms involving an exchange of stock valued at $122,000,000.

Subject to stockholder agreement, the firms involved are Universal Oil Products of Des Plaines and Calumet & Hecla, Inc. of Evanston.

John G. Woods, mayor of Arlington Heights, is an executive officer of UOP, and staff members of both companies live in Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

UNIVERSAL Oil Products Company is to be the surviving company with Calumet & Hecla continuing as an autonomous unit.

Calumet and Hecla, with plants located in Detroit and Decatur, Ala., derives the major part of its income from the production of high-quality copper and copper alloys.

The company is also engaged in copper mining and refining in Wisconsin and operates forest and timber holdings in Michigan and northern Michigan for the production of hardwood veneers.

UOP is internationally recognized as a leader in providing research, development and engineering services to the petroleum and petrochemical industries.

The company has also become an important factor in the construction, chemical manufacturing, air and water conservation, fragrance, industrial plastic laminates and transportation equipment fields.

"WE BELIEVE that our consolidated operation will have substantial growth potential," M. P. Verzem, UOP board chairman, said today. "We are particularly pleased with this opportunity to enter the highly important fields of nuclear energy, desalination and thermal water pollution control."

'A Christmas I'll Never Forget'

BY GEORGE SINDELAR

It was 1918 and I was stationed in Germany. It was Christmas time and I found a bleak and desolate Christmas away from home and family. After the signing of the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, my unit, the 89th Division, was chosen for the Army of Occupation in Germany. In those days, there were no transport planes or helicopters or trucks. We walked and walked and walked until we reached Weir, Germany.

GEORGE SINDELAR

While marching through Germany, we stopped over at many small villages where we were quartered in private homes. In the first home I stayed lived an elderly woman who lived alone. Her husband, two sons, and a brother were killed in the past four years' fighting.

When I was in training in France, the troops slept in barns, sheds, and in empty houses. In Germany, though, it was different. We slept in clean beds and were offered wonderful hospitality.

AS CHRISTMAS drew nearer, we moved on to another small village. There, we stayed for six days. Four of us were put in a home with an old grandfather and grandmother and their two daughters.

Three of their sons were killed in the war. Yet, we, their enemies, were given clean beds to sleep in while the family slept on the kitchen floor. They had little to eat, but what they had they shared with us.

When I offered them a cup of Army coffee, the old grandfather broke into tears and embraced me. It was the first coffee she had tasted since the war began.

ON A COLD rainy Sunday my buddies and I were sitting at the kitchen table with the old woman when I looked out the window. There, in the gray misty air, I saw a grim walking toward the house. He was carrying a scroll, and that looked like a scroll. The priest entered the house and unfolded the scroll. On it was a picture of an angel placing a wreath on a soldier's grave. It was the priest's way of telling the grandmothers that their sons had been killed in action. Never in my life have I felt so successful. My buddies and I felt guilty. We asked ourselves why we had to be there in enemy uniforms. Why, we thought, were we sent over here to kill and to be killed?

A DAY later, we packed our gear and moved on to another village. There, seven of us were placed in one home. The head of the house was a once-wealthy German. Since the beginning of the war, he had lost everything, but he was lucky—old of the three sons came home from the war alive.

We sat around the kitchen table and talked. We shared our coffee and cigarettes. We shared our food. Why, I wondered, had we been enemies before? We found that these same boys had served in the trenches. They had been trying to kill us and we had been trying to kill them. Now we sat around a kitchen table and talked and drank and ate.

ON CHRISTMAS Eve, we arrived at another small village. There, 10 of us were put into a home with an old woman. Her husband and son had been killed in the war. We all slept on the living room floor.

Outside, the weather was cold and dreary. It didn't seem like Christmas. There was nothing clean and white. Only a hovering gray mist and a chilling wind.

But on Christmas morning when we awoke, we almost cried. The little old lady had been up during the night. In the middle of the room was a small Christmas tree. It was decorated with small apples, one for each of us.

IT WAS the woman's way of making us feel at home. And at once, we all felt like it was really Christmas. We decided to go to church. The nearest one was two miles away.

The church was located in a small valley. As we approached, we saw a wonderful sight. There, from all directions, came Christians walking towards the little church to worship on Christmas morn.

The scene reminded me of the first Christmas—with shepherds walking towards the stable of Bethlehem. In the church we were saddened by what we saw. It was filled with women. All of them were black. There were only four men in the church and they were cripples.

It wasn't Christmas at the women's hospital. But to me and our only presents were the women's apples. But to me, the Christmas of 1918 will always remain close to my heart.

Dialogue

...with George Hamilton

"Santa, we know that a lot of you helps take care of the many requests sent to you every year, but we also have been told that some of the most unusual requests are sent to you for special service. Would you care to tell us about a few of them?"

"Well, (Ho Ho Ho) I'll give you one about that. Yes, I do get many unusual requests, and I do everything I can to fill and carry them."

"Here's one from a little George Wallace, down in Alabama. He writes:

"Dear Santa, please can you get me a new state all my own? Since Luther was elected governor, she won't let me be governor any more!"

"Isn't that cute? I think I'll send him a 'Run for President' stamp. He ought to like that. Here's a letter from Hendry Hoffman, a little boy in Chicago:"

"Santa, the monotonous day-after-day-after-day year around my house is so boring I can't stand it any more. Will you please send me 'Tuesdays'?"

"Poor boy. He must be homesick. I don't know what a 'Tuesday' is, but I'll say yes to get one for him. Here's a letter from a boy who calls himself 'Dr. Spock':

"Dear Santa, please bring me an LBJ wooden doll that I can stick pins into whenever I get mad at Lyndon."

"I don't know about that boy. The ought to spend more time with the other kids instead of making things that hurt. Here's a letter from the other boy, Lyndon Johnson, who lives down in Texas:

"Santa, I would like a Dr. Spock doll, the kind that you wind up and it sticks a Band-Aid into its mouth."

"Haha. I don't know if we have a doll like that in stock, but it might not be a bad idea. I'll see what I can do. Here's a letter from a Richard Daley in Chicago. Maybe you know him:

"For this Christmas, Santa, I would like you to give me all of the Chicago suburbs to help me operate the big city that I already own."

"I guess that boy will be happy if I just send him a game of Monopoly. Boy, have you ever?"

"I just want two books, Santa, one on aging and the other about the strange ways of birds and how to deal with them, especially the female."

"That's not my letter Santa. There's another boy who uses my name and because everyone thinks it's me they let him into doctors and the White House and places like that."

Let's Not Forget Their Christmas Gift

First and foremost, Christmas is the birth day of the Prince of Peace.

No matter how historians debate the exact year of the nativity of the Divine Babe of Bethlehem, it was a time when "the whole world was at peace."

Technically, it was a "Roman" peace, backed up by the might of brute hardened legions in every corner of the known world.

The peace of which the angels sang, heralding an era of good will to men who would likewise enjoy good will, was a more lasting serenity. The coming of the infant was to introduce the sublime tranquility of order, the calm and blessed relationship between man and God, first, then between man and man.

As we say "Merry Christmas," we really do not intend that the bustles and timed and trimmings of the least are the essence of the day which we want our friends and neighbors to enjoy.

Actually, the joyful spirit pervading home and church with carols and prayers, the happy gleaming in children's eyes, the contentment on the wrinkled faces of oldsters, these are signs of the peace we would have for every man, not just for Christmas, but for every day of his years.

TO SPEAK OF ENJOYING Christmas while our nation is at war is a stark contradiction.

With so many of our best and finest youth in uniform at the fighting front this 25th of December, talk of Christmas joy seems ironic. Indeed, in our northwest suburban homes, the absence of a son or husband or brother will be keenly felt by many of our citizens. In some homes, awareness of a man who is absent at the front will be so keen that it will be to the fore.

The sacrifices made by our fighting men and women will not in itself make this Christmas a day to grieve. But their heroic actions, an affirmation of duty will underline and magnify the significance of the day let all of us... good will. No matter how great the measure of the soldier's sacrifice, he has the consolation of knowing he bears arms to keep the Christmas message for another generation.

Let none of us forget the value of the Christmas gift presented to us this Christmas—of $1.67 by each man in our armed forces.

BERRY'S WORLD
Tom, I know there's been a great deal of stress during the holidays, but you've got to come out of there!

Send Greetings To Servicemen In Vietnam

Christmas greetings, created by students of Thompson Junior High School in Arlington Heights, are being received by servicemen in Vietnam this week. The greetings were designed and made by the junior high school students and signed by them. They were then taken to the USPO in Chicago where they were addressed to service men from this area serving in Vietnam this Christmas season. It is expected that there will be some replies from the men in Vietnam. Buy Wagon To Bus Handicapped Handicapped children in School District 15 will be getting new transportation to school soon.

At the last Board of Education meeting it was decided to accept the low bid submitted by Arlington Park Dodge.

Painting for a new station wagon of the type with large double doors on one side to single door at the rear. The special vehicle will be used to pick up children who are unable to be accommodated by the ordinary bus service.

The vehicle will be painted "school bus-yellow," has a capacity to carry seven or eight passengers, and costs $2,167.78.

"IT'S SIMILAR to the one we already have." Business Manager Stanley Row told the board. "But that one is overloaded. We use it for almost everything—transporting children, carrying mail and delivering."

The accepted bid indicated that the wagon could be delivered within 25 to 60 days.

Other dealers who submitted bids are De Plaines Dodge and Evanston Dodge.

Intra-Mural Shoot Results

The results of the Rolling Meadows Police Department's second annual Intra-Mural Shoot have been announced. This tournament is comprised of eight separate matches, one each week from May to December. Its purpose is to help officer develop proficiency with his weapon, improve his aim and to provide a competitive sport. The teams competing against each other were the individual working shifts.

Each participant donated 75 cents per match, to go toward the purchase of trophies for the highest scores at the end of the contest.

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS WERE WON BY:
1st place "Type": Sgt. C.N. Pottler; 2nd place "Type": Sgt. W. Golden; 1st place "Marksmen": Lt. R. Evans; 1st place "Sharpshooters": G.I. A.K. Herbert; 2nd place "Sharpshooters": G.I. R. Pottler; 1st place "Expert": Sgt. T. Loerger.

1st place in slow fire, G.I. A.K. Herbert; 2nd place in slow fire, Sgt. T. Loerger; 1st place in timed fire, G.I. R. Pottler; 2nd place in timed fire, Lt. R. Evans; 1st place in rapid fire, G.I. D. Harper; 2nd place in rapid fire, Sgt. C.N. Pottler.

The individual team award was won by Chief C. Campbell, Lt. R. Evans, Sgt. W. Golden and G.I. D. Harper.

Also, a new trophy was ordered this year for the officers who "Most Improved Over Last Year's Award." It was awarded to G.I. D. Van Jacobs.

Still at It

Four more Arlington Heights residents have reported incidents of vandalism to Arlington Heights Police Thursday.

Ellen Satt said 11 light bulbs were taken from a decoration at her home at 617 N. Val.

Thomas Smiley of 1307 W. Concord reported that a string of light bulbs had been cut.

John J. Fajkus of 812 N. Dayton told police 10 bulbs from a decoration at 812 W. Dayton were taken from a decoration at her home at 617 N. Val.

Also, a new trophy was ordered this year for the officers who "Most Improved Over Last Year's Award." It was awarded to G.I. D. Van Jacobs.

Big Bird Count Is Underway

This is the time of the annual Christmas census. No need for Mother and Dad to be nervous that Santa may be dropping in to check the roster of how many toys are in the family. Or that Uncle Sam is making a last-minute tally of folks to receive the aid.

This event is a much more popular affair. It's the 50th annual Christmas Bird Count, a unique scientific venture sponsored by the National Audubon Society.

This year more than 10,000 qualified bird-watchers will take to the field to conduct the count that provides year-over-year data on the species, range, and number of birds in North America.

The systematic and sustained growth of membership in the National Audubon Society is the best promise for future expansion of the bird count.

From 36,084 members listed on July 1, 1965, the organization has grown to 57,171 on the 1st of July, 1967, according to Charles H. Callahan, executive vice president of National Audubon.

The increase in the number of bird-counters in recent years has presented the national society with a complete lack of man power. Each year more area are covered, many more ornithologists are taking part, and many more birds are reported. Last year's report filled 288 pages, printed in small type in the April issue of the Audubon Field Notes.

IN OUR own state, the Illinois Audubon Society, formed in 1871, conducts the operation from the headquarters in Chicago's National History Museum, and through such local groups as the Audubon Society of Park Ridge and the Lake Cook Park Supply company in Lake Forest.

Vogt, assistant general manager, is in charge of the service work.

Horoscope

FOR SAGITTARIUS
CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) - You will be disappointed as you go about the business of decorating, wrapping, and making the holiday any for others.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) - Remember that it isn't how much you give but how much you wish to give. Don't be tempted into extravagance.
PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) - A day when you'll need all the vim, vigor and vitality you can muster. Final arrangements for the holiday need your attention.
ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) - Don't waste into new projects now. Spend time with family and friends getting into the holiday mood.
TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) - Add an unfortunate to your list of those to receive a holiday gift. You may be doing a greater service than you know.
GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) - Should an emergency arise, meet it with calm and fortitude. You know how best to deal with matters concerning your career.
CANCER (June 22 - July 23) - Don't allow others to interfere with family plans for this holiday. There are no days for family solidarity.
LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) - Remember those who have been of aid to you throughout the year during this holiday season. A good day for reinforcing friendships.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) - A gift exchange during which you should be able to finalize plans for the coming holiday. Let children have a say.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) - A good day for the Libra who is planning for family festivities. You should be able to complete preparations at this time.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 23) - You may have to give some time to straightening out the affairs of others on the domestic scene. Do so with a willingness (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) - A day for preparation. Spend it in preparations for the holiday. Take care not to try to do too much at once, however.

The Day's Prospects

BY DOLORES HAUGH

Women's Editor

What is more symbolic of Christmas than a mother? Whether the mother is Evelyn Hest or the blessed virgin — this is Christmas.

The love of a family that lasts all year with loving deeds of giving — the bedtime story, the baking of cookies for Browne Troop 692, the drawing of special little books for each child to be taken and read aloud "all alone" at school, hours of volunteer work with the P.T.A. — are the spirit of Christmas personified.

The mother's lullaby, whether sung in a stable 2,000 years ago or hummed softly in a cozy little home at 1204

Robert Dr. conveys today the same love and gentleness.

HUSH-A-BYE

Hush-a-bye, hush-a-bye, Angeli are near you. Don't you cry, don't you cry, They will reacher you. Shut your eyes, shut your eyes.

The Lord is here too. The Lord is here too.

Home is where the heart is and the heart of the home is the loving mother.

May the peace that radiates from such homes as these fill your heart this happy Christmas season.

Accompanied by a little prayer that soon peace will be known everywhere — this is my Christmas wish for you.

A Mother—The Symbol of Christmas

A special lullaby was written by Evelyn Hest of 1204 Robert Lane, Mount Prospect. She has hummed these tender words to all of her children, Steve, 3; Davey, 5; John, 4; Sally, 7; and Mary, 8. She is the wife of John C. Hest and writes children's books for her family as a hobby.

Engagement Announced

The engagement of Barbara Griffing to Robert Vireo has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffing, Prospect Heights.

Vireo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vireo of Mount Prospect.

Both are graduates of Prospect High School and are now seniors at Northern Illinois University where he is a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

The wedding is planned for August 1968.

Baking The Pie

"The devil does not show himself in Cornwall at Christmas time lest he should be baked in a pie."

This old English saying takes its humorous inspiration from the wide variety of ingredients actually used in the mince pies and other Christmas pies of early England, according to the editors of The New Book of Knowledge.

One 15-century recipe for a Christmas pie included: a pheasant, a hare, a capon, two partridges, two pigeons, two rabbits, beef meat balls, egg, pickled mushrooms, seasonings and spices, all in a pastry crust.

Silent Night

At this joyous season, we extend our warmest greetings to you, hoping all is bright on our Holy Night long ago. May all the blessings of Christmas be yours.

A Book For Your Cook

There's still time to get your favorite cook another cookbook for her collection. Anyone who likes to cook would enjoy receiving a new addition to her other cherished volumes. Some new cookbooks are:

Madras Approach to Everyday Cooking by Marguerite Gustafson, American Dairy Association home economics manager.

224 pages of recipes, charts for cheese identification, just butter sauces, time and temperature guides for meat, poultry and fish cooking; freeze-dried and convenience food suggestions.

Italian Cooks Cook For Luck An Adrienne in Leno-Carlotta Edited by Helen CORBITT (Houghton Mifflin Company). A treasury of deliciously stirring recipes by the director of the Neiman-Marcus Restaurants.

The Basic Cook Book (Fifth Edition) by Marguerite Gustafson and Uta M. Dow (Houghton Mifflin Company). In words, diagrams and actual motion photographs it explains the most detailed processes of cooking and guides the homemaker in planning meals, buying food and equipment, and organizing her kitchen.

A World of Bread by Dolores Casella (David Walker). A virtual encyclopedia of baking, with 800 recipes from all over the world, presented so temptingly that one wants to try them all.

The New York Times Menu Cook Book by Ciss Chabriere (Harper & Row). A collection of original and classic recipes ranging from a club sandwich to homemade walnut pickles.

Pasta by Evelyn Goodell (Simon and Schuster). Fifty recipes for sautees, baked dishes and homemade spaghetti products that are good to eat.

The Art of Making Good Food at Home by Melba K. Hermann (Doubleday). A collection of confessions and directions for such tasks as creaming butter and sugar, creaming sugar not at all, etc. But for anyone willing to take the time and effort, this book appears to be a thorough guide.

Tots Mark The Holiday

The 13th Annual Christmas Party held by the Mount Prospect Nursery School and Day Care Center was a tremendous success, just in time.

For Christmas

Mount Prospect residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marni, 315 S. Emerson, have been presented with two week-old presents, two granddaughters born within five weeks of each other. Brad Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. River, River Falls, Wis., was born Nov. 8 weighing 8 pounds, 12 ounces.

The second grandson, George John, was born Dec. 12 to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Foose, Franklin Park. He weighed 8 pounds, 12 ounces.

according to Mrs. John Baker, director.

Parents were invited to a special program which included songs and musical presentations by the preschool band. All parents received a book filled with art work, made by their child which was a resume of learning accomplished from September to December.

Treats, refreshments and a visit with St. Nick, completed the program. Mrs. Baker is assisted by teachers, Mrs. D. Ashbrook, Mrs. Charles Loh, Mrs. Donald Bartholomew, Mrs. Paul Schaeffer, Mrs. Robert McFalls, Mrs. Donald Williams, Mrs. Woodrow Brothman, Mrs. Edward Graham, Mrs. Leonard Weber and Mrs. Edward Herbert.

Sharing

Girl Scouts from Troop 121 brought a little Christmas spirit to Magnus Farm this week. The scouts brought companions for the main dining room and Santa Claus book reads for very few.

The girls also sang Christmas songs in the halls of the main building.

Girls in the troop are: Susan and Ruth Medendorp, Pam and Linda Lefsch, Cindy Susan Rorer, Michele Alexander, Lauren Cerriglio, Bonnie Berthelmer, April Zinter, Diane Stapleton, Laura Hest, Mary Ann Lysial, Melody Perretten, Adeline and Ruth Parykani. Leaders are Mrs. S. Clark and Mrs. Nolan.
